STORM, TIDES BATTER COAST

Boulevard Inundated in Storm—Motorists brave the sea and rain in traveling along Old Colony blvd., at Dorchester, today as the raging easterly storm and high tide swept onto the road. The storm flooded streets and cellars, smashed seawalls, marooned families and disrupted auto, rail, sea and air traffic. (See other pictures on Pages 3, 24 and 25.)

Gen. Meyers Lied, Says Morgenthau

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers said today that after consulting then Treasury Sec. Morgenthau he and his wife bought $4,000,000 of government bonds during the war and ran up a paper profit of $90,000. Morgenthau told him, Meyers declared, that "he didn't see how I could go wrong."

In New York, Morgenthau called the retired Army officer's testimony to the Senate War Investigating Committee an "outright lie." He said the Treasury's practice "was to discourage speculation in government bonds and to make it impossible for people to speculate in government bonds."

Meyers, after saying the bond deal showed a $90,000 profit, said he and his wife "didn't sell then." It was not developed immediately what, if any profit, eventually was realized.

The committee, headed by Sen. Ferguson (R.) of Michigan, is investigating the $40,000,000 in wartime plane contracts received by Howard Hughes.

TESTIFIES LOAN OFFERED

Meyers has come into the inquiry because (a) he was one of the officers who passed on the contracts, and (b) Hughes testified Meyers tried to borrow $200,000 from him for a bond deal. (Meyers says that is not true—that Hughes offered to lend him $250,000 and he refused to accept it.)

Meyers also testified:

1—Hughes authorized him to offer $150,000 to the Catholic Legion of Decency if New York city would lift a ban on the sexie movie, "The Outlaw," which Hughes produced. He had said earlier—and Hughes had denied—that Hughes proposed to pay him $100,000 for his services. This matter was after Meyers left the Army. He said Hughes sought his services in getting the ban lifted because he (Meyers) was a close friend of Mayor William O'Dwyer.

2—He never told superior officers of offers he said Hughes made to lend him money, give him a job at his own "ticket" as to salary, and give him a house near Los Angeles.

ECCLES DENIES CLAIM

The retired officer said the bond deal was based on borrowing money from banks (with the bonds as security) at 1 per cent interest. The bonds paid 2 per cent, he said, and moreover advanced from par of 100 to 103 or 104.

When Meyers related that he actually made a bond deal, he said he talked about it with

DeGaulle for U. S. Pact Against Reds

PARIS, Nov. 12 (AP)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle urged France today to take the lead in forming alliances with the United States, Great Britain and other countries "who feel themselves similarly menaced" by Communism.

France must take the initiative, the leader of the anti-Communist Rally of the French People (RPF) told a news conference, saying:

"France is the most menaced externally by this enormous power—the most formidable she has ever faced—and internally because, independent of her own force, this power has assistance within France."

France, De Gaulle said, must not appear in the role of beggar. On the contrary she must work in conjunction with the United States on full equality.

America, he continued, could furnish economic aid, while France could furnish her "geographical position and moral influence in Europe."

De Gaulle asserted that France must begin at once to organize western Europe for defense, and mentioned specifically the need of closer economic and political ties with Italy.

FIRE CHIEF DIES

ENFIELD, Ct., Nov. 12 (AP)—Chief Dana K. Miller of the Enfield volunteer fire department died in his sleep today after suffering a heart attack. Miller, who was 49, was born in Suffield, and had been a tobacco grower for many years.

Dem Convention Starts July 11

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—The week beginning Sunday, July 11, today was fixed for the 1948 Democratic national convention to be held in Philadelphia.

The Republican national convention will be held in the same city starting three weeks earlier on Monday, June 21.

SERVEI VAVILOV, DIRECTOR OF RED NUCLEAR RESEARCH
Famed Soviet Scientist Was Present at A-Bomb Test

Report Bomb Story Credited in Britain

PARIS, Nov. 12 (AP)—The London correspondent of the newspaper Aurore wrote today that certain British military circles, with whom he claimed close contact, had information which made them place credence in another Paris paper's report yesterday of a Soviet atom bomb test last June 15 in Siberia.

The correspondent, J. R. Pecheral, asserted his sources regarded the story—which appeared in the evening L'Intransigeant—as "something practically certain."

Their attitude, Pecheral said, contrasted sharply with "the skepticism of scientific circles in Great Britain" with which, he declared, the military sources were obliged to associate themselves publicly.

L'Aurore, a pro-De Gaulle organ, published articles last July insisting that Russia had the atomic bomb.

Pecheral located the Siberian factory city of Atomgrad, mentioned in L'Intransigeant's story yesterday, as being at Oukhta in Arctic Siberia, where he said 200 German scientists were at work in "powerful" laboratories.

Pecheral said information collected in Germany showed that the Atomgrad factories were employing uranium ore mines in Czechoslovakia and Saxony.

He identified the supreme director and "ruling master" at Atomgrad as a Maj. Gen. Volkov.

Pecheral reported that another center of research in unconventional armaments was operating in the Caucasus, where he asserted the Russians were investigating the possible military uses of cosmic rays which could "relegate the atom bomb to the rank of outmoded projectiles."

The correspondent said that still a third center, which he did not locate, was doing work on radio-guided missiles.

Hungary Anti-Red Lands in N. Y., Held

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (INS)—Zoltan Pfeiffer, Hungarian anti-Communist leader who fled from Budapest, made a surprise arrival at La Guardia airport from Frankfurt, Germany.

Pfeiffer, accompanied by his wife, Magda, and his five-year-old daughter, had no passport.

He was taken in custody by immigration authorities pending a check of his status with the State Department.

It was believed that Pfeiffer had been headed for the American zone of Germany or Austria. It was stated, however, that he had been invited to come to the United States.

Truman Before Congress Monday

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—President Truman will deliver to a joint session of Congress in person Monday the message calling for stop-gap European relief aid and for inflation curbs at home.

Gale-Lashed Waters Tie Traffic, Flood Homes

A raging southeaster that gathered fury through the night on winds attaining gust velocity as high as 70 miles an hour off the coast swirled wildly through New England today, flooding streets and cellars in coastal areas, smashing seawalls, crippling traffic, marooning families in water-besieged homes and disrupting service on the New Haven Railroad's main line from Boston to New York.

ACTRESS GREER GARSON
Recovering in Local Hospital

Greer Garson Operated on in Hub Hospital

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (INS)—The New York Journal-American stated today movie actress Greer Garson underwent a minor operation yesterday in an unidentified hospital outside Boston where she is registered under an assumed name.

The article by Louella Parsons, Hollywood columnist, said Miss Garson was recovering nicely and was expected to be out of the hospital in a short time.

It stated further that the star decided to go to a hospital away from New York or Hollywood because she wished to avoid publicity.

The Journal-American story by Miss Parsons continued:

"Although Greer kept it from her friends and only a few of us knew it, she hasn't been feeling well for some time. She has had several bad attacks.

"Apparently the prominent physician she consulted in Boston insisted she take a little rest, and undergo the operation which he said was all that was necessary to restore her to health.

"In a telegram to me, Greer said she hoped she would be well enough to return to New York this coming week."

FLY TO ROYAL NUPTIALS

BUCHAREST, Nov. 12 (AP)—King Mihai and Queen Mother Helen departed by plane for London today to attend the wedding of Princess Elizabeth Nov. 20.

Sudden near hurricane winds springing up this afternoon knocked over scores of telephone poles and power lines in the Cape Cod area, disrupting telephone service in a wide area and plunging at least a dozen communities into darkness. Observers said the force of 75-mile winds, which snapped trees like tinder, was comparable with the hurricane of 1944.

Hyannis' Cape Cod Hospital threw its own auxiliary power plant into service when the main power lines failed.

SNOW, MERCURY FALLS

As predicted by the weather bureau here, snow began flaking down over Greater Boston shortly after 2 p. m., worsening driving conditions already made perilous by wet leaves gathered in drifts along roadways. It was the first snowfall of the season and with it the mercury fell sharply.

At 1:30 p. m., the temperature was 47. An hour later, it had plummeted to 37. In the offing for tonight were temperatures below the freezing point.

Total precipitation from 6 p. m. yesterday to 1:30 p. m. today was 2.74 inches, close to normal rainfall for the month.

Mt. Washington reported a 12-inch snowfall. One inch fell in Concord, N. H. Snow was also reported in Lawrence, Lowell and Providence.

Two persons were reported injured in Newton auto accidents. Lawrence Pratt, Hudson st., Quincy, suffered a possible skull fracture and broken ribs, when his car was in collision with a Newton st. department truck in Dudley rd., Newton.

Julia T. Endeos, 37, Lakeview ave., Cambridge, hairdresser, was struck by a car as she was crossing Centre st., Newton, and suffered a severe leg injury. Both were taken to Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Almost two inches of rain had fallen in Greater Boston shortly after noon, washing leaves and debris into overtaxed catchbasins, clogging them and forcing a number of manhole covers from their bases.

Residents from every section of the city swamped the telephone switchboard of the public works department's sewer division to complain of flooded streets, spilling water over sidewalks and into cellars, causing untold property

DOCTOR TRAPPED

On his way to a patient today, Dr. Moses J. Stone, 53, Bellevue st., West Roxbury, collapsed in his car shortly after it had stalled in four feet of water in Baker st., West Roxbury.

So strong was the pressure against the doors of his car that police were unable to pull one open. They called a rescue squad which towed the car out and sped the doctor to Faulkner Hospital. Attaches said he apparently suffered a heart attack.

Court Holds 2 in $110,000 Payroll Stickup, Sets 2 Free

Two suspects in the $110,000 payroll holdup at the B. F. Sturtevant plant in Hyde Park, Oct. 30, were ordered held in high bail in West Roxbury Court today while a third, arrested with them, was ordered released after a week of steady questioning. In the same court, another suspect was cleared of any connection with the case.

Anthony Pino, 39, of Dorchester, was held in bonds of $100,000 after he pleaded not guilty to a charge of armed robbery in the payroll stickup. His plea for an immediate hearing was turned down by Judge Daniel W. Casey who granted a police request for a continuance to Nov. 22.

Pino's brother-in-law, Vincent Costa, 33, also of Dorchester, was held in $20,000 bail as a material witness. A third suspect, Michael Geoghegan, 40, of Somerville, was released by police after he, Pino and Costa had successfully faced augmented police lineups.

ASK COURT ACTION

Police sought the court action against Pino and requested the heavy bail for Costa after 12 victims of five different holdups failed to identify any of the three suspects in another special lineup at headquarters.

Shortly before Pino and Costa were arraigned Judge Casey cleared Patrick J. "Patsey" Farina, 35, of Roxbury, an ex-convict, of a charge that he participated in the Sturtevant robbery. Farina, who was arrested the day after the holdup as he was leaving a barber shop where he works, had denied any connection with the crime. He was discharged at the request of two Boston detectives.

Farina's freedom was short lived, however, for he was immediately re-arrested on a minor morals charge and for violation of the true name law. He will be arraigned on these counts in municipal court tomorrow.

SEES RESEMBLANCE

Witnesses to the lineup today who were unable to identify the three suspects included victims of the Sturtevant holdup, biggest in Boston's history, and of the American Sugar Refinery plant robbery, where bandits grabbed $29,000 the following day.

These and other witnesses, however, were unable to pick out the three police suspects from seven others in the lineup. The nearest any witness came to making an identification was when Peter Monopoli, a Sturtevant plant employe who previously "positively identified" three other men, since exonerated, as driver of the getaway car, asserted that Pino "resembled the man in the car at the robbery."

Flood Fails to Halt Race With Stork

The stork today followed Mrs. Freida Bergman, 28, Floyd st., Dorchester, as her husband bundled her into his car and started out apace for Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

All was well until they reached the Arborway, Jamaica Plain, where the car valiantly strove to ford a deepening rain pool but sputtered to a dead stop. While the stork hovered worriedly overhead, Merton J. Bergman sploshed to a near-by home and frenziedly called police.

They sped to the scene, lifted Mrs. Bergman from waters seeping over the floorboard, and rushed her to the hospital, the big bird following.

Dorchester Girl Rescued in Fire

Trapped by flames and nearly overcome by smoke, a 14-year-old girl crawled along a narrow ledge to a porch where she was rescued by firemen today when a $1000 blaze swept her home in Leyland st., Dorchester.

Dark-haired Mary DeFranco, clad only in her nightgown and bathrobe, escaped through a window and walked the ledge in the howling rain and windstorm. She was stranded on a porch roof for 10 minutes before firemen reached her with a ladder.

Home because schools were closed on account of the weather, Mary was in bed when her brother, Robert, 16, told her their three-family house was afire. Brother and sister started down the stairway. Robert got through to the street, but Mary, nearly choked by smoke at the second landing, climbed out the window. Firemen said the blaze started in the first floor apartment. The building owner, Della Fitzgerald, occupies the second floor tenement.

Lake Finds Berlin Starving, Populace Drained of Emotion

By AUSTEN LAKE
Boston American Staff Correspondent

BERLIN (With the Occupation Forces)—Now the scene changes and so do the German people. Unlike the surly contempt of Munich, the sneering austerity of Nuernberg, the studied arrogance of Frankfurt, th is city is gasping for life.

From the air, as I flew over in noonday sunlight, Berlin's sprawling miles looked as normal as any postwar German center—the usual acres of bomb-rubble, the gaps of spineless roofs, the scattered caverns of empty walls. One grows callous to destruction and this, from aloft, was not much worse than Darmstadt, Mainz, Koblenz or Kassel. So it seemed.

But on the ground Berlin's streets are different. Its sidewalks are strangely uncrowded for a metropolitan city of 3,250,000 (reduced from prewar 4,500,000). Its throngs were oddly unhurried and preoccupied. To one who has studied the individuality of many towns, Berlin was different. What is it?

Its people are bereft of emotion. They are looking for food and fuel. For winter is close and already the air is bitter. They have neither energy nor time for anything else.

I hunted up the supervising chaplain of the U. S. slice of this city, which is cut into three segments like a huge pie. For, by experience, I have learned that chaplains, whatever their denomination, are the best-informed men in the army. This one was Maj. William Fitzpatrick of Texas, a Baptist.

HUDDLE FOR WARMTH

So we went to the dead-end regions of the town, which are almost everywhere — deceptively behind barricaded windows or rows of outwardly unmarred apartments. Inside they are gutted husks where sometimes 12 persons huddle in a room for the sake of their body warmth, usually the old and the young.

I know now what I have not known before — why the people one meets on German streets are seldom pinch-faced and emaciated. The healthier ones go out to forage, the weak stay indoors.

I passed behind reeling interiors along the Hauptstrasse where there were lean-tos and shacks of stacked brick and salvaged materials, and where, sometimes, folk more like creatures than divinely-fashioned people stared at me without blinking. Inevitably there were children with wide, animal eyes who sucked their thumbs. They always had a finger in their mouths.

They did not beg, just stared in fixed puzzlement.

I say this is different because I have just come from the German south where towns are near the open fields, and where there are no signs of famine. There are fertile farmlands down there and woodland. But Berlin is a great, stone-enclosed shell where those who are strong enough squeeze into outbound trains, like herring in a grocer's tin, to sell or barter the little they have left to bring back what they can—a few fresh vegetables, and occasionally a piece of salt meat.

OLD FOLKS' SLIM RATION

I went with Maj. Fitzpatrick to an old folks' infirmary where a mission had picked up some 100 elderly people from the streets. Dr. Walter Hoffman and his wife ran the place with what charity he could wangle, the average received by such institutions, according to Chaplain Fitzpatrick. Nine times since 1945 they had received food parcels from the United States, an average of half a dozen boxes permitting an extra momentary ration of a quarter-pound of bacon, a few ounces of cheese, a pint of cocoa and some dehydrated eggs. "It's like Christmas dinner," said Mrs. Hoffman. Meanwhile they subsist, as do all Germans, on the basic ration — 8-9 of a pound of meat every 10 days (when they can get it), ¼

Newark Sea Battle Showdown Delayed

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 12 (AP)—H-Hour for the former battleship New Mexico is postponed until tomorrow when she meets the Newark "Navy" head-on in her final battle—the battle of Newark Bay.

Target of the 30,000-ton New Mexico is the scrap heap. But Newark officials, determined that no more ships shall be scrapped on the city's waterfront, have sent out a screening force of two fireboats armed with chemical spray and waterhoses to blockade the Newark channel.

Heavy seas slowed the decommissioned battleship to turtle pace as she wallowed down from Boston under tow by three tugs.

One tug was forced out of formation today, but the Coast Guard said the tug was not in danger as reported earlier. A spokesman for the Meseck Towing lines said the other two tugs were just about holding their own with the New Mexico some 35 miles outside New York harbor.

Because of the heavy seas, the New Mexico probably will come within shouting distance of Newark bay late tomorrow, the spokesman said.

Meanwhile, waterfront strategists speculated as follows:

If the Newark "Navy" blocks the channel, the boats constitute a menace to navigation which the Coast Guard must remove. The Coast Guard refused to say what it would do.

Meanwhile crews of the two 30-foot fireboat Newark fleet relaxed after a night-long vigil.

The Michael P. Duffy, its two deck guns capable of firing 2000 gallons of water and foam a minute at a 400-foot range, rode through the night with its crew of six on the alert against any attempt to slip the former battleship through the channel under cover of darkness.

During the patrol contact by radio had been lost with the fleet's sister ship, the William P. Brennan. The Duffy's fuel was running low at dawn and pleas for relief to "Admiral" John B. Keenan, who acts as city public safety director in less crucial times, went unheeded.

Keenan and Mayor Vincent W. Murphy were resting after their Armistice Day call to arms to blockade the channel and prevent "turning the city into a graveyard for old Navy ships."

Fall River Graft Probe Tomorrow

Twenty witnesses are scheduled to appear before the Bristol County grand jury tomorrow, when Dist. Atty. J. Edward Lajoie and Asst. Atty. Gen. George Fingold will present evidence in the first phase of purported municipal graft and corruption in Fall River.

Atty. Fingold will ask the grand jury to indict three members of the Fall River city council and a city department head. It is expected that the jurors will return at least a partial report before the end of the week. Other indictments will be sought later.

AAF Jet Bomber Flies 533 MPH

DAYTON, O., Nov. 12 (AP)—The Army air force's first bomber with four jet engines arrived at Wright Field today, completing a flight from Muroc Field, Calif. The Consolidated XB-46 flew in from Oklahoma City on the second leg of the trip in one hour and 41 minutes, averaging 533 miles an hour.

The trip from Muroc Field to Oklahoma City took two hours and 15 minutes for an average of 507 miles an hour.

Lowell Actor In Real-Life KO Role

Nick Dennis of Lowell, who has played "tough guy" roles on the stage for 12 years, played the surpassing performance of his career early today—in real life.

Dennis, who is currently playing a Mexican gambler in "A "Street Car Named Desire," punched a man thoroughly in a dark Roxbury Crossing section, then sat on him until a police cruiser arrived on response to a frantic summons from residents.

The actor had scrubbed off his grease paint before leaving the Wilbur Theater but he hadn't forgotten the fisticuff portrayals of his stage life.

When police arrived he explained the man had accosted him and demanded money while holding one hand suggestively in a coat pocket.

A polished actor at all times, Dennis had thoughtfully removed his overcoat before giving battle. With equal thoughtfulness, he neatly and quickly folded it.

Then he went into a professional stance, feinted expertly with his left a couple of times and clouted his foe horizontal with a right, the likes of which even Roxbury Crossing hadn't seen in many a day.

He acknowledged later, with a modest twirl of his cavalry mustache, that he had picked up quite a few tricks while playing a cutpurse in Cyrano de Bergera.

Later he appeared in Roxbury Court and identified Thomas F. O'Connor, 21, of Main st., Stoneham, as the accoster. O'Connor was charged with attempted robbery and held in $10,000 by Judge Frankland W. L. Miles for a hearing Friday.

Love Laughs at Locksmiths In Honeymoon Rent Dispute

Love does laugh at locksmiths, after all. Two smiling Dorchester honeymooners, who had cut short their New York wedding trip to conduct a legal battle for their apartment, proved this in Suffolk Superior Court, today.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gilfillan, married only last Saturday, informed Judge Frank J. Murray they had conferred with their landlord, Ralph Palmieri, and had reached an out-of-court agreement. The apartment in Neponset ave., from which they claimed they had been locked out, was to be theirs, they added.

The newlyweds and the landlord, also a resident of the Neponset ave. house, had engaged in a dispute over the signing of a lease. Palmieri spoke of a lease, but Gilfillan, a 21-year-old Army vet, said he couldn't sign because his work might take him away at any time.

He said the November rent had been paid, but that when he went to move in furniture he found the locks had been changed. He then obtained a temporary restraining order against the landlord and he and his bride hurried back today for the court hearing.

Windsor Refuses To Answer Report Of Bridal Boycott

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (INS)—The Duke of Windsor arrived in the U. S. with his Duchess, smilingly declining to say whether he is boycotting the Nov. 20 wedding of Princess Elizabeth because the Duchess was not invited.

The Windsors arrived on the Queen Mary for an extended stay in the U. S. Asked about the boycott report, Windsor said:

"It is a personal and family matter. We wish them (Elizabeth and Lt. Philip Mountbatten) every happiness as does everyone else."

Windsor and the Duches were asked if they would comment on newspaper reports that the former Wallis Simpson was not invited to the wedding and hence her husband declined to attend. Windsor said he had not seen the reports.

The Duchess, considered one of the world's best dressed women, was asked to comment on the current controversy over the length of women's skirts. She said:

"Women should wear skirts at whatever is their most becoming length."

She was dressed in a Navy blue suit of about midway length, mink scarf, Navy blue and brown turban and diamond and sapphire earrings.

Seating Plan Announced For Royal Wedding

LONDON, Nov. 12 (INS)—Buckingham Palace announced today the general seating arrangement to be followed at the wedding next week of Princess Elizabeth and Lt. Philip Mountbatten.

King George VI, Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mother Mary, with other members of the bride's family, will be seated on the south side of the sanctuary in Westminster Abbey.

On the north side will be the bridegroom's family, including the Earl and Countess of Mountbatten.

Royalty from other countries will be seated in the lantern. Diplomatic corp members will occupy the south choir, and cabinet ministers and representatives of the dominions and empire, the north choir.

It was revealed that Queen Mother Mary's dress will be blue and gold, high-necked, with a light train. Over it she will wear a hip-length velvet cape of aquamarine. She will also wear the blue Order of the Garter ribbon.

Wedding guests poured into London's fashionable hotels as preparations for the royal nuptials—only a week away—took on a feverish tempo.

Twenty-five needlewomen are working nightly to finish Princess Elizabeth's closely guarded gown on time.

The queen's hat designer is completing the princess' going-away hat, which reportedly will be in tone with blue-gray woolen suit material.

Hotels decorated their lobbies and exteriors with flags, bunting and flowers.

Decorations for the main table at the wedding breakfast at Buckingham Palace will consist of myrtle pink carnations and white heather. Guests will receive wedding favors of white heather tied with a silver ribbon.

Gifts from all over the world continue to arrive. A 54-carat pink diamond was sent from Tanganyika, Africa, by J. T. Williamson, reputedly the world's richest bachelor.

Earl Mountbatter, governor-general of the Union of India, arrived in the British capital with presents, including a handmade tablecloth woven from yarn which Mahatma Gandhi personally spun.

East Boston Bulge Hero's Body Given Honor Guard

The body of a Battle of the Bulge hero, S-Sgt. William J. Joyce, Trenton st., East Boston, was escorted today from the South Station to the Magrath funeral home, East Boston, by members of the American Legion Post named in his honor.

Funeral services for the East Boston soldier, who died on his 26th birthday while serving with the 2d Armored Division, will be held Friday morning with a requiem high mass at Sacred Heart Church, followed by burial in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

Marshall Sees China Aid Only 70 Pc. Useful

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall said today the government is working on a program of help to China with the expectation that any funds will be used with "about 70 per cent efficiency."

Marshall also told the House foreign affairs committee it "is our feeling" than any assistance to Europe ought to be supplied immediately to keep the supply pipelines filled.

The Secretary appeared before the committee for questioning on the Administration's foreign spending program as he did yesterday before the Senate foreign relations committee, and the questions started out today covering much the same ground they did yesterday.

Rep. Kee (D.) of West Virginia, wanted to know about prospective help for China, which Marshall has figured at around $300,000,000 over 15 months. The Secretary said the situation is one of "great complexity," that the government wants to "do something helpful," and is trying to develop a program in which funds will be used perhaps with 70 per cent efficiency.

No one asked him immediately why they could not be used with 100 per cent efficiency.

Vets in Vigil To Hold Office Of Pershing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (INS)—A little band of war veterans today declared their determination to resist a White House order for removal of the offices of General of the Armies John J. Pershing from the old State Department Building to the Pentagon.

White House Secretary Charles G. Ross said the order was in conformance with centralization of offices of all top generals.

Ross said the historic peacetime headquarters of the man who led U. S. forces to victory in World War I must now be used "for other purposes."

But the embattled soldiers said they would resist—with force, if necessary—any attempt to transfer the office of "Black Jack" Pershing to "some cubbyhole in the Pentagon."

It mattered not at all to the sturdy ex-warriors that the 87-year-old Pershing, ill in his quarters at Walter Reed Hospital, probably never will set foot again in his office.

They asserted the office had been promised to Gen. Pershing for life and they vowed to see to it that the promise is kept.

Workmen have been ordered to clear out the office to make room for Charles Luckman, chairman of Mr. Truman's Citizens' Food Emergency Committee.

Lovers' Lane Suspect Says Cops Beat Him

Ralph P. Dupont, 20, one of two Lowell youths on trial for the holdup murder of Mario Grimolizzi, Army war veteran, in a Lowell lovers' lane last March 1, testified in Middlesex Superior Court today that he admitted being involved in the crime to avoid "more brutal beatings by police."

Dupont was called as the first defense witness. While he was being cross-examined by Asst. Dist. Atty. Lyman C. Sprague, Atty. Joseph C. Donohue, counsel for co-defendant Michael F. Coggins, Jr., 20, twice asked for a mistrial because Coggins' name was twice interjected into the questioning by the prosecutor.

MISTRIAL BIDS DENIED

Judge Abraham Pinanski denied both mistrial motions and ordered the case to proceed.

Dupont, under direct examination by his counsel, Atty. William R. Scharton, related how he had been released from Concord Reformatory in May of 1946, and had worked since then for a Lowell iron works until two days before arrest on March 3 on a breaking and entering charge. He said he was held in the East Cambridge jail until the charge aaginst him was nol prossed on March 15. Then Dupont added:

"When I was released from jail, I was picked up by State Police Lt. Gerald McCarthy for questioning about this murder. I was taken to the State Police office in the East Cambridge courthouse and questioned by State Police Lts. Andrew Trodden and Daniel I. Murphy.

"In the room with them were McCarthy and Lowell Police Officers McNamee, O'Dea, Hunter and Nelson.

BEATINGS TOLD

"Trodden and Murphy assaulted me. They beat me on the back and sides and chest. Trodden told me I'd better talk or I'd go out of there on a stretcher.

"Between beatings, McCarthy kept reading from notes about the murder of Grimolizzi. I was struck by the cops at least 25 times. I was knocked to the floor. I was black and blue."

Under questioning by his counsel, Dupont denied ever stating he was "in" on the murder. He said he never owned a gun in his life and insisted that he "only repeated what Lt. McCarthy kept telling me" to stop from being beaten again. He added:

"McCarthy took me in a car out riding by the murder scene. He kept telling me here's what happened. He said you did this and you did that and then you ran that way. I agreed with him so I would not get beat up."

Sen. Saltonstall Back, Urges Immediate Aid for Europe

Returning to Boston after a four weeks tour of Europe during which he talked with leaders of nearly every nation except Russia, Sen. Leverett Saltonstall today called for immediate aid for our recent allies as well as for the people of Austria and those in the American zone in Germany.

Unless such aid is forthcoming at once the Marshall plan will be of limited value, he warned.

Food is the crying demand of Great Britain, he said, while coal and wheat are desperately needed in France, Italy, Austria and in one section of Germany.

Sen. Saltonstall is one of the nine members of the Senate Appropriations Committee which will have to pass on any funds voted under the Marshall plan as proposed by President Truman and which went overseas in order to secure background concerning decisions on further American relief for Europe's impoverished countries.

The senator warned that food allotments for the people of Europe are being cut with a consequent danger of starvation to many.

"We've got to get them over the hump, by that I mean their present unfortunate position," he said. "The people are hungry and cold. What's the use of the Marshall plan if the people get utterly discouraged this winter before the Marshall plan begins to operate?

"I do not want to be committed upon the amount of aid that is necessary."

Girl Admits Killing New-Born Baby

ALBUQUERQUE. N. M., Nov. 12 (AP)—Police Chief Pat Dugan said today a 19-year-old unwed mother signed a statement that she strangled her new-born infant and attempted to dispose of the body in a can of burning trash.

Dugan identified the girl as Nickie Pierce, office employe of a weekly newspaper. Dist. Atty. M. Ralph Brown said she would be charged with murder.

Dugan said Miss Pierce's statement recounted that she gave birth to the child, unattended, at her rooming house Saturday, after staying home from work with the excuse she was ill.

High Cattle Prices Worry Stockmen

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—Reports being received by the Agriculture Department indicate that not all cattlemen are pleased with the present high price of beef cattle, fearing that by the time the cattle are ready for market, prices may be down and they will lose money.

The department estimates that the total number of cattle on farms on Jan. 1, 1948, will be about 77,000,000 head, or a decline of about 10 per cent since the record peak of 85,000,000 on Jan. 1, 1945.

It predicts that the number of beef cattle on feed for the slaughter market wil be only 3,700,000 on Jan. 1, 1948, compared with 4,300,000 a year earlier.

PEPPERY PARTING

Her husband seized all the pickled peppers she preserved for him, then peddled the peppers so he could play the parimutuels, Mrs. Rose Ciampa, 30, of Havre st., East Boston, pleaded in probate court today.

Her petition, praying for a legal parting from Arthur Ciampa, was granted by Judge Robert G. Wilson, Jr., on grounds of nonsupport and cruel and abusive treatment.

Her partner also peddled their radio as well as the pickled peppers to get funds, Mrs. Ciampa said.

Junior Railroad Club Organized

The Junior Railroaders Club of Boston, an organization offerig "A Ticket on the Right Road for Boys 12 to 17," will hold its opening meeting at 9 a. m. Saturday in Filene's Restaurant and then move to South Station for an inspection of New Haven Railroad equipment.

Parental permission and 50 cents a year dues are the requirements for membership in the club which is sponsored by Wm. Filene's Sons Co. and the New Haven Railroad. The club will meet one Saturday each month for either "in the shop" or "on the line" meetings.

Members get Junior Railroaders passes and are afforded an opportunity to broaden their knowledge of transportation, engineering, geography, community relations, economics and other kindred subjects.

The club's adult advisory committee includes Ellis Atwood, well known railroad hobbyist; Prof. Emeritus William J. Cunningham of Harvard Business School; Boston School Supt. Arthur L. Gould; Francis W. Hatch, advertising executive; Cyrus Hosmer, Jr., of Railroad Enthusiasts, Inc.; Rev. John S. Sexton, editor of The Pilot, and Lee P. Stack of John Hancock Life Insurance Co.

HONEYMOON LIMIT

DUBLIN, Eire, Nov. 12 (AP) —When, Irish legislators would like to know, is the honeymoon over?

It's an official question because they are deliberating a bill for state construction of dream houses for Irish honeymooners, and one provision says the couples would have to vacate "after a certain period."

The measure would appropriate 275,000 pounds ($1,100,000) to build the houses, mainly for use in rural areas, where the practice of honeymooning with the old folks has been known to cause problems.

$100 a Ton Newsprint Seen As Production Costs Climb

MONTREAL, Nov. 12 (AP)—The price of newsprint may be increased by $8 to $10 a ton about the first of the year as a result of rising costs of production, it was predicted today.

Canadian newsprint manufacturers, who normally supply about 80 per cent of United States publishers' requirements, have complained that the present contract price of $50 a ton delivered in New York does not allow a sufficient margin on the basis of the present upward trend of mill, labor, wood and other costs.

The price of newsprint last was increased in March this year from $84 to $90 a ton.

When newsprint was at its lowest price of $40 a ton in New York in 1935, half of the Canadian newsprint industry was in bankruptcy according to officials of the industry.

Saturday Evening Post Now 15 Cents

The price of the Saturday Evening Post, national weekly magazine, was increased on the newsstands today from 10 cents to 15 cent a copy.

Wage-Hour Law Repeal Urged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—Outright repeal of the wage-hour law was advocated today by Tyre Taylor, general counsel of the Southern States Industrial Council.

Taylor said the 40-hour week which is standard in the law "is the very opposite of the all-out emphasis on production which the times so urgently demand."

He estimated substitution of a 48-hour week in U. S. industry would yield enough man hours to build 2,045,000 more homes or 20,000,000 autos a year.

Center of all "Ayes"

YOU look over those long, clean lines, free and flowing as the wind—and you say "Aye!" to that.

You slip behind the ready wheel, settle yourself in deep, soft cushions—and once more the "Ayes" have it.

You finger the little buttons that run the door windows up or down, test out the control that at a touch positions the front seat for you—and those things win your nod.

Now put foot to treadle. There's the quick answer of eight big Fireball cylinders, tossing down a challenge to go adventuring.

Look over the top. A pull on a knob will swing it back out of the way—yet you find it tight and snug against the nippiest of November winds.

Make a little test run, picking out roads not noted for their smoothness.

They're ironed level by four coil springs, cushioned by Safety-Ride rims that get 25-lb. softness from standard 30-lb.-pressure tires.

You test the wheel, the brakes, the room, the road-hugging steadiness. They all win "Ayes" as America's most wanted automobile shows why it is just that.

Centered here are all the good things you want in a car—including style that stands all alone for sheer beauty and as a forecast of coming things.

So why hold back?

Be as smart as those who've gone before you and get your order in, with or without a car to trade, soon as you can.

To Relieve A Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

You'll be surprised how quickly and easily you can relieve coughs due to colds, when you try this splendid recipe, mixed in your own kitchen. It gives you about four times as much cough syrup for your money, and you'll find it wonderful, for real relief.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's no trouble at all. (You can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) Then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a pint bottle and fill up with your syrup. This makes a full pint of medicine that will please you by its quick action. It never spoils, lasts a long time, and tastes fine—children love it.

This simple mixture takes right hold of a cough. For real results you've never seen anything better. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its quick action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Pinex Is Fast Relief. Easily Mixed. Saves Money.

Miss Guiney Heads Judges for History Test

Miss Helena R. Guiney, president of the Boston Public High School Teachers History Council and head of the History Dept. at Roslindale High School, has been selected to head the judges committee of the fifth annual Hearst Newspapers National American History Awards, it was announced today.

The judges committee, composed of leading public and parochial high school officials and authorities on American history, will meet tomorrow to complete plans for the examination for the Boston area, to be held locally Tuesday, Nov. 25.

Miss Guiney has already drawn up a draft examination consisting of a series of objective type questions, in addition, a 250-word essay on a historical subject is required.

Questions are based on American history during the periods between 1781 and 1825, including the Constitution of the United States. At tomorrow's conference official approval will be given the type of examination.

All the schools—public and parochial—are represented on the committee handling the examinations. Following the all-city finals, this body will be empowered to pick the first 25 winners for local prizes. The top three will be eligible to participate in the national finals to be held in Faneuil Hall Dec. 10.

Students in approximately 44 high schools throughout the city will compete in the Hearst classic. In the intramural tests, heads of the history dept. of all schools in competition will select the top three papers of their respective schools and forward them to the history examiners.

MISSION HIGH LISTED

Among the latest high schools in the city to enroll in the annual Hearst classic includes Our Lady of Perpetual Help High School (Mission High), Roxbury.

In a letter endorsing the competition, Sister Mary Patrick said:

"Members of the teaching staff and student body wish to thank the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser for the splendid opportunity afforded the pupils of Boston schools to demonstrate their knowledge of American history and their appreciation of it in their scholastic achievement."

NEW KIND OF TOOTHPASTE GETS TEETH 2½ TO 5½ TIMES BRIGHTER THAN ANY OTHER TOOTHPASTE!

It's not just another toothpaste . . . not just another old toothpaste with an added ingredient! Instead, it's an unmatched new kind of toothpaste with a formula that's completely new and radically different!

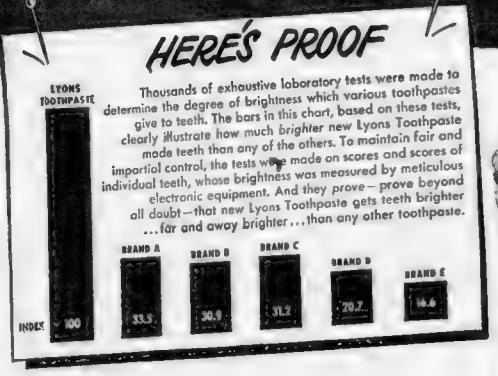
HERE'S a toothpaste that's really new! A toothpaste that really does more for you. It's amazing new Lyons Toothpaste—a toothpaste so much better for brightening teeth, it sets an all-time high standard for dental beauty.

When we say Lyons Toothpaste is better for brightening—far and away better—than any other brand, you can believe it. For the evidence is found in thousands of laboratory tests on scores and scores of individual teeth. These tests prove—conclusively—that new Lyons Toothpaste is better because they show that while cleaning teeth beautifully, it gets them brighter . . . 2½ to 5½ times brighter . . . than any other toothpaste!

Because the formula for Lyons Toothpaste is completely new and radically different, you'll find nothing to match this toothpaste—anywhere! It contains a new, patented cleansing agent—and a new, exclusive polishing agent. Therefore, it cleans beautifully . . . polishes brilliantly . . . and, strange as it may seem, cleans without soap—polishes without chalk!

So don't be content with a toothpaste that gives you less. Get the revolutionary new kind of toothpaste that does what no other toothpaste can do. Get new Lyons Toothpaste—and get more brightness in your smile!

HERE'S PROOF



Thousands of exhaustive laboratory tests were made to determine the degree of brightness which various toothpastes give to teeth. The bars in this chart, based on these tests, clearly illustrate how much brighter new Lyons Toothpaste made teeth than any of the others. To maintain fair and impartial control, the tests were made on scores and scores of individual teeth, whose brightness was measured by meticulous electronic equipment. And they prove—prove beyond all doubt—that new Lyons Toothpaste gets teeth brighter . . . far and away brighter . . . than any other toothpaste.

Almost beyond belief! Cleans without soap! Polishes without chalk!

Stassen Asks New Marshall Plan Agency

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (INS)—Harold E. Stassen demanded today the establishment of a "top calibre American agency" to administer the Marshall Plan under the supervision of Congress.

The former Minnesota Governor and announced candidate for the Republican presidential nomination at the same time outlined a seven-point program this nation should follow in helping Europe survive the coming winter.

He told the National Food Industries convention luncheon that this super-agency should be above partisanship and "must be operated on an effective administrative basis with a single executive of high calibre and broad practical experience."

Stassen said the United States should not make blanket loans to European countries and should not permit them directly to invade our tight "food situation."

Chairman Marriner Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board as well as Morgenthau. He said he believed Eccles told him the same thing Morgenthau did.

(Reporters, seeking to ask Eccles about Meyers' story, were sent word through an associate that he had never given such advice to Meyers, or anyone else, and would not have done so under any circumstances.

(Eccles further relayed word that he "abhorred" speculation in government bonds and that he and the federal reserve board had done everything they could to prevent it.)

SECRET HEARING

It was disclosed today that the committee had questioned Meyers about bond dealings at a secret hearing last July, when he said:

"Morgenthau said he wouldn't tell me to do it, but he said he didn't see how I could go wrong."

He also said then he thought Eccles had told him the same thing.

Meyers then said the July testimony had refreshed his memory.

"I believe he (Morgenthau) did say I couldn't go wrong," the general declared.

Before he turned to the bond deal, Ferguson had Meyers go back over previous testimony that Hughes offered him a $250,000 loan, a job on which he would "write your own ticket" as to salary, and the gift of a house near Los Angeles.

MIGHT HAVE "ERRED"

Ferguson suggested it was corrupt if Hughes made such offers to an Army officer in position to pass on warplane contracts. Meyers was deputy chief of Air Force Procurement in 1943 and 1944, the time he says the offers were made.

Meyers declined to agree to the word corrupt but said he probably erred in not telling superiors about the offers.

Ferguson asked Meyers to explain how he proposed to make $1,000,000 by buying $10,000,000 worth of war bonds on margin.

Meyers—still denying he asked Hughes for the money—said that after obtaining $200,000, money could be borrowed from the banks at one per cent interest to make up the balance—$9,800,000.

He said the bonds paid two per cent interest and that this would net a person a one per cent profit.

NOT MANY women can match "Pat" Hackett's experience with horses, but millions can match her experience with cigarettes!

Remember the many brands people smoked during the wartime cigarette shortage? Whether they intended to or not, they compared brand against brand . . . for Taste . . . for Throat. Millions learned from experience that there are big differences . . . in taste, mildness, coolness . . . in quality. As a result of all this comparing: More people are smoking Camels than ever before!

Try Camels. Compare them in your "T-Zone." Let your own experience tell you why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience."

According to a Nationwide survey:

Oil Man Sees Reds Past Europe Peak

CHICAGO, Nov. 12 (AP)—William R. Boyd, Jr., president of the American Petroleum Institute, said today that he did not believe that "a war with Russia is inevitable," and he was of the opinion that "Communism in Europe has passed its high tide."

"It is my opinion that Russia's undiplomatic, outrageous and boorish outbursts are but the exhibition of anger that comes from frustration of its plans to communize all of Europe," Boyd said in an address prepared for the Institute's 27th annual meeting. He added:

"I do not believe that a war with Russia is inevitable. I do not believe they want or expect to engage in a shooting war with us any more than we do with them."

Fund Luncheon Has Rabbi, Actor

Actor John Garfield and Dr. Joshua Loth Liebman of Temple Israel will share the spotlight at the Community Fund's fifth report luncheon tomorrow at Boston City Club, Fund Chairman Philip H. Theopold announced today.

Guest speaker will be Rabbi Liebman, author of the current book "Peace of Mind." Garfield, who has come to Boston principally for this appearance, will also speak.

The campaign, now in its last week, will be seeking to reach 90 per cent of its total minimum goal of $5,600,000 by tomorrow's meeting.

Theopold has said that "only if more persons give and if contributions are increased by 25 per cent," can the campaign be a success by its closing date next Wednesday.

U.S. Housing Hearing Here Tomorrow

A two-day hearing on housing conditions and construction problems before a joint committee set up by Congress will begin at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow in the federal building under direction of Rep. Ralph A. Gamble, New York.

Public officials, including Governors of the New England States or their representatives, veteran, labor, real estate and building groups are expected to express their views at the hearings, already held in 20 cities throughout the nation. Two New England members of the investigating committee are Sens. Charles W. Tobey, New Hampshire, and Ralph E. Flanders, Vermont.

Speaking for Boston will be Mayor Hynes, Clarence A. Roberts of the Real Estate Board, Thomas R. Flynn, Apartment House Owners' Ass'n; Albert S. Bigelow, Emergency Housing Commission; Lewis H. Weinstein, State Board of Housing.

Others include:

John F. Sullivan, state commander of the American Legion; Thomas P. Joyce, state adjutant of the VFW; Edwin Pratt, chairman of the American Veterans Committee; Arthur E. Burrell, state adjutant of AMVETS, and Otis L. Farley, state adjutant of the Disabled American Veterans.

The committee plans to present facts obtained from its hearings to Congress.

MORAL ASPECT OF TRAINING

THE HEARST NEWSPAPERS have been authorized, and highly privileged, to publish several communications in recent days from religious organizations and leaders, offering endorsement of the Universal Military Training program now before Congress.

This refutes the erroneous impression that it has had some acceptance in the country, with assiduous encouragement by opponents of Universal Military Training, that all religious organizations are opposed to the program as a matter of moral and spiritual principle.

Among these communications, particularly illustrative of the vigilantly PATRIOTIC understanding by responsible church people of the VITAL NECESSITY of Universal Military Training for the defense of the United States, is the letter written to President Truman by Mr. W. O. H. Garman, president of the American Council of Christian Churches.

Offering "every assistance" to the President of the United States to accomplish the enactment by Congress of Universal Military Training legislation, Mr. Garman wrote:

"We do not know of any objections on the part of any in our council to military training as such . . .

"We believe that it is imperative that our nation rearm and remain strong, equal in military might to any other.

"We also believe that appeasement is futile, that stern measures must be used in dealing with Russia.

"Since many of our constituents would undoubtedly be found to favor military training being given in connection with high school and college training, they would if given the opportunity MOST CERTAINLY ENDORSE THE SWISS SYSTEM AS IT IS BEING ADVOCATED IN THE HEARST PAPERS.

ANOTHER COMMUNICATION having the same purpose is that of Major General Luther D. Miller, chief of chaplains, United States Army.

"The plan for Universal Military Training proposed by the national military establishment," writes General Miller, "is vitally concerned with the character development of all trainees . . .

"The Universal Military Training program stresses the importance and value of the individual, his dignity as a human being, and his personal sense of moral responsibility to himself, to his God, to the Army, and to his family and nation."

It is surely a most proper concern of the religious organizations and leaders of the country that the Universal Military Training program provide facilities and safeguards for the moral and spiritual welfare of the youth of the country, and for instruction and inspiration in the essential concepts of American citizenship.

IT IS A PROPER demonstration of that concern that they should urge upon Congress its unequivocal duty in this respect.

Not only should Congress provide in the Universal Military Training program a basic groundwork for an adequate armed defense of the country in the event of war, but it should make equally sure that every trainee under the program is a BETTER AND MORE RESPONSIBLE AMERICAN CITIZEN in consequence of his training.

To attain this end, the utmost vigilance must be exercised by the Congress against inclusion among the instruction staffs of the program those who might subvert its purposes—a sinister intent which will not lack for sponsors, once the present effort to defeat the Universal Military Training program has failed.

Let the Congress surely keep the Universal Military Training program AMERICAN in all its aspects, and especially morally and spiritually—for as General Miller so earnestly and urgently says:

"National character is a vital factor in national defense, and any plan for national defense which neglects this truth is inadequate."

"I bless you for kind looks and words
Showered on my path like dew,
For all the love in those deep eyes
A gladness ever new!
For the voice which ne'er to mine replied
But in kindly tones of cheer,
For every spring of happiness
My soul has tasted here.
—FELICIA HEMANS.

ABOVE AN EXCERPT from the rare poems written by a wife in praise of her husband. This particular husband certainly rated a poem. In fact, he should have had a monument. A man who has never given his loving wife a sharp answer is a distinct rarity. I imagine that even those wonderful Chicago husbands snap a reply at the little lady now and then.

ASKING: Queries from clients. Q. When was the song "Ragtime Cowboy Joe" popular? A. About the time ragtime was popular. That is about 30 years ago. Q. What became of Bill Haines, star of the silent film era? A. Last I heard of him he was an interior decorator in Beverly Hills. Q. What chance has a brown-haired, blue-eyed Scorpio for success in the entertainment world? A. Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 22) females are the "it" girls of the Zodiac. "Ooomph" does not insure success in the entertainment world, but it is a nice thing for an ambitious girl to have. Hedy Lamarr was born under Scorpio. However, most Scorpio women who have succeeded in the line under discussion have been singers. Or so say the stargazers.

Hedy Lamarr

A ST. LOUIS, Mo., judge decided a wife who is short of money has a legal right to rifle the pockets of her sleeping husband and take what money she finds. Some years ago, before he became the baseball czar, Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, in deciding a case, voiced the opinion that a wife is entitled to one-third of the money she finds in a sleeping husband's pocket.

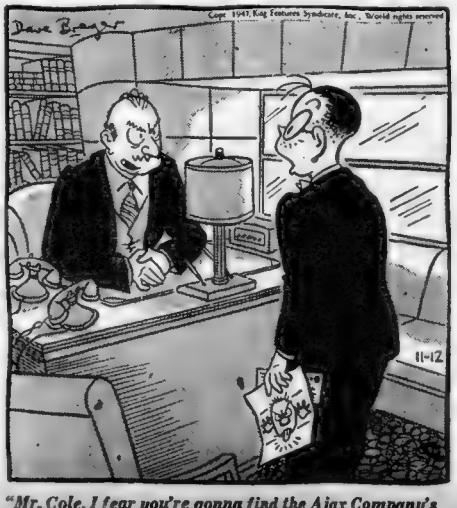
HEREDITY: An extreme and somewhat weird example of heredity is that of the Whitehorn family of Wallingford, Eng. For five generations all members of this family have been born with only one finger on each hand, and one toe on each foot. However, in two recent births in the family the infants had the normal number of fingers and toes. So it is believed that the passing on of the deformity has come to an end. Some years ago a student of heredity predicted it would end in the fifth generation.

SALESPEOPLE: A feminine subscriber whose husband is six feet five inches tall says she has been made "to feel a little ridiculous" by salesmen when inquiring about extra-size beds and sheets to fit same. The salesmen either dismissed her inquiry with a sharp answer or gave voice to some corny crack. The time has come when salespeople would do well to treat all customers respectfully, sympathetically and in generally co-operative fashion. There are places that sell large-size beds and extra-long sheets. Salespeople in places not carrying the same should find out where they are carried so they can inform inquiring customers.

PASSING BY: Mabel Wayne. Clever composer of popular songs. Mabel wrote "Ramona," "In a Little Spanish Town," "Little Man. You've had a Busy Day" and many other hits . . . Hazel Brooks. Red-haired, sultry-eyed cinema performer. Her first ambition was to be a doctor. I have never seen a red-haired feminine doctor of medicine. However, I know a red-haired female dentist. Miss Brooks, who is five feet seven and a half inches tall and weighs around one hundred and twenty-six pounds, has green eyes. They should star her in a screen version of Clyde Fitch's play "The Girl With the Green Eyes." I believe Clara Bloodgood created this role. Am I right or am I stuck for some more stogies which I can ill afford at this time?

STOGIE DEPARTMENT: Some of our stogie-wagering clients are more intensely interested in winning stogies than horse players are in winning three-horse parlays. I have a communication from a young woman trying to win a stogie. To it she adds a P. S. "Am on my honeymoon. Been married two days." Imagine that, she's on her honeymoon but still can't forget about trying to win a stogie. Incidentally, the young women winning stogies from us give the same to husbands or boy friends. That is, with one exception. There is a Providence, R. I., reader who says any stogies she wins she smokes herself.

BRIEFLY: "When You Were Sweet Sixteen," currently a smash song hit, was written by James Thornton in 1898 . . . Add members MNIAP Club: Alice Chalice, Vallejo, Cal.



"Mr. Cole, I fear you're gonna find the Ajax Company's response to your demands a little surprising!"

CHARGED WATER, pretzels, swizzle-sticks and sports
Policy and, you know, disorderly resorts.
Narcotics, handbooks, tablecloths and jackets
The baseball, football and basketball rackets.
Over there in Jersey he's the guy to see
In problems up to murder in the first degree.
Grand juries, trial juries, anything you wish
General operations; he's a Blue Plate dish.
Swooners, crooners and junkeys, natch.

WELL, HERE'S looking at you; down the hatch,
Get a load of that commotion over there
The honorable justice is going on the air.
Give him a line in a column and he
Will give you an exclusive on the court's decree.
Runs up from Washington to fire off his lip
Eats on cufferoo, including also tip.
Sometimes he will read his opinion out loud
And glower at the pauses, to impress the crowd.

THE NATIONAL committeeman is coming in now
An ambulance-chasing alcoholic lobbygow.
For a G-note he can fix it so you can cop a plea
Or get you in some day for lunch with Harry S. T.
That little fellow yonder, who looks like a clerk
Not him the other one, that one's a jerk
I mean the quiet-looking, scrawny little guy
You wouldn't hardly figure him for FBI
Great little copper what I mean! Teriff.
Spot you a ton of weight and lay you out stiff.

SIT AROUND HERE and they all drift in—
Celebrities and buyers, down from St. Paul, Minn.
Columnists, comedians, jockeys, hoods and fighters
Tourists and lecturers and famous novel-writers.
Promoters and producers and the Hollywood crowd,
Hollering and showing off and cutting-up loud.
Telling how they love the weak, the helpless and the needy
How they hate intolerance and bigots and the greedy.
Used to be they socialized in nothing but frivolity
But now the new sensation is the gag they call equality.
God Bless America! Bless Democracy!
I mean-but terrific! My Country 'Tis Of Thee!

Hollywood

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (INS) —How do you like this for Shakesperean glamor —Jennifer Jones and Louis Jourdan in "Romeo and Juliet"? This, my friends, is on David Selznick's 1948 production schedule and offhand I can't think of two more perfect stars to play the most romantic of fiction lovers—and in "technicolor, yet!

And there is more news about this: David, who has the theater as well as the movie bug, plans a stage tour of "Romeo and Juliet" with Louis and Jennifer before starting the picture. They will go on the road for a limited period as a sort of glorified "rehearsal" before the screening.

If this road show idea goes over, watch for other producers to follow. Already, David has contacted al celebrated English stage director to handle the show—that's how far along he is with this novel build-up in advance of a movie.

HOWARD HUGHES not only is fighting with Sen. Brewster et al, in Washington, but he has another legal battle in New York. Even though his much censored "The Outlaw" is in its final week on Broadway, Hughes will still battle the New York City License Dept. in the appellate division here.

He wants to vindicate himself and prove his personal point by obtaining a decision as to whether New York City has the right to restrict his film after it has been passed by the New York State Censorship Board. The decision is expected in two weeks. Most people thought that after "The Outlaw" closed Hughes would withdraw from the fight—but not Howard!

A letter from Carole Landis, who's staying in London for a longer time, tells of making "The Noose," by Richard Llewellyn, author of "How Green Was My Valley."

Carole Landis

Carole said she was very happy in London. That's good, because she was so dissatisfied with her recent roles in Hollywood. Carroll Levis is to have the male lead opposite her. He is one of the sensations of England. Miss Landis will be on the welcoming committee when the Hollywood delegation gets there for the command performance.

SASCHA GUITRY, blacklisted as a leading collaborationist by the resistance movement in France, has finally been vindicated. The author-playwright staged a dramatic method of telling his story.

Last week he invited the stage and movie people of Paris to the Edward VII Theater and for two hours held forth explaining his side of why he had appeared to co-operate with the Nazis. At the end he got a cheer from the audience and has now received permission to start the first play he has written since the war. "L'Illusionniste." His fifth wife will star in it.

Well, that is France's problem. But there are many people in the world who feel there are no extenuating circumstances in collaborating with the enemy.

CHATTER IN NEW YORK: Marlene Dietrich says don't you believe those column stories that she is divorcing Rudy Seiber, her husband of many years, to marry Jean Gabin. "It's the most ridiculous thing in the world," Marlene told me. "Rudy was in Paris all the time I was there. We didn't even discuss divorce."

As to marrying again, she says there's not a chance in the world, Gabin or anyone else.

Long time no see Louise Allbritton — but we will soon. Louise, who gave up the screen when she married radio commentator Charles Collingwood, plays Maureen O'Hara's sister in "Sitting Pretty" at 20th—her first movie since her marriage.

When she quit she said one of the reasons was that she was tired of playing "snippy" females. This is more of the same—a small town gossip.

I've always said it is hard for a girl to give up a career once she's been in harness. We may get tired of our jobs sometimes, but there's no business like your own business, no matter what it is.

SNAPSHOTS OF NEW YORK AND HOLLYWOOD collected at random: Have Ida Lupino and Collier Young broken up in Hollywood? Ida was at Le Pavillon with Fefe Ferry and over in a corner were Collier and his ex-wife. The nods they exchanged were right out of the ice box.

Surprise twosome of the year Zsa-Zsa Hilton and Bob Topping at The Stork, Bob's first pearance since he and Arline Judge broke up. Walter Winchell says Arline expects a baby—if true, that will make three in her family with different fathers.

Spent a wonderful evening with Bob and Dolores Hope, winding up at Leon and Eddie's.

Dolores Hope

In the old days when Bob was courting Dolores, they used to go there, so it was all very nostalgic. Bob put on an impromptu show, as only he can. Then to the surprise of everyone, Dolores sang "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes." She hasn't sung publicly in 10 years and she brought down the house.

Bob Mitchum's sister, Carol Morris, was married today at the Congregational Church in Westwood, to Buddy Worth, a musician.

Joe E. Lewis is wowing them, as usual, at the Copacabana. His "biography" of Monte Proser is a classic. Incidentally, there is a pair of dancers at the Copa who remind me of Veloz and Yolanda in their heyday. Their names are Mario and Floria.

Dolly O'Brien's house guest in Palm Beach is Gloria Lister, former secretary of Mike Romanoff. All of Dolly's friends are glad she decided to drop her title of "Countess," as there is a question whether Jose Dorelis' title of "Count" is the real McCoy.

That very funny story in Readers Digest, "I Was a Male Bride," has been bought by 20th for $25,000. David Selznick tried to get it for Louis Jourdan.

There's a whisper that Dorothy Parker, the famous wit, and Ross Evans, her writing collaborator, have matrimonial intentions.

Patricia Kirkwood, who played with Van Johnson in "No Leave, No Love," is trying to divorce Jack Lister, the London producer, but 'tis said he won't agree.

Herman Hover gifted Kay Thompson, for her birthday, with a gold clip as big as the box office receipts she's been bringing into Ciro's.

Joan Crawford, dripping with feathers, jewels and orchids, stopped by on her way to the train. She is so-o-o-o eager to get home, she can hardly wait. Not me. I love New York—but I love Hollywood, too—pardon me, Mr. Skolsky.

Diana Lewis Powell, no longer heartbroken over losing the mermaid role in Bill's next picture, Racquet Clubbing with him at Palm Springs.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

SIX HUNDRED AND SOME-ODD CURED "ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS" will banquet at the Copley Plaza a week from tonight, but will remain anonymous, although the press is invited . . . Did the Veterans Administration executive, who borrowed $2500 from a subordinate, pay it back? We know him well but it would cost lots in telephone tolls to ask him, because his boss here transferred him so far away . . . And who was the VA insurance clerk who posted his own premiums as paid, month by month, without ever paying? He was caught when he collected $90 from another veteran, pocketed the money and posted that as paid, too.

PAT CONNELLY, our postmaster, is looking—and really looking—for extra clerks for the Christmas rush . . . The Harvard Crimson's reviewer labels "The Tawny Pipit" as Rank (with a capital "R" for J. Arthur, the producer), and he means it's good . . . And while on the subject of Harvard, that collapsible football team is giving the athletic authorities a far greater gain in attendance, over last year, than any other Ivy League eleven can boast . . . So it's true that the Sturtevant $110,000 holdup gang had inside help, as stated here on Nov. 1 . . . Best vantage point for children at yesterday's big parade was the Robert Gould Shaw statue, opposite the State House reviewing stand. They perched on the horse's head and saddle, and among the muskets of Shaw's Negro infantrymen.

ELIA KAZAN, Turkey-born Greek director of "A Streetcar Named Desire" at the Wilbur, won't speak to Tallulah Bankhead, nor she to him. They clashed bitterly while he was directing her in "Skin of Our Teeth" . . . Clever Oscar Wilde epigram in "Lady Windermere's Fan" on the Colonial stage: "A cynic is a man who knows the price of everything—and the value of nothing" . . . When the ether monument was erected in the Public Gardens in 1867 with two men claiming to have been first to use the anaesthetic, Oliver Wendell Holmes proposed a statue of both, bearing the words: "Monument to e(i)ther" . . . That cocktail room at the Bellevue is Boston's darkest. Sometimes, after your eyes get used to the dark, you get a big surprise, seeing who's sitting just across the way. The other night, a Milton man-about-town was practically consternated to see his wife.

MAURICE (Copley Plaza) LAWLER and Glenwood (Parker House) Sherrard used to work together for Sherrard's dad at the Furness-Withy hotels in Bermuda. Now they run competing inns and head the two big hotel associations, Lawler the Massachusetts and Sherrard the Boston . . . Governors of all the New England states will be in Boston Thursday and Friday, next week, for the 23d N. E. Conference . . . Seen while strolling: Mr. and Mrs. Garwood Van (the music maestro) window-shopping at a diamond store on Tremont st. . . . Ray Dorey, WBZ and Majestic disc baritone, did so well in a personal appearance at the RKO-Boston that the Met in Providence puts him on for five days, beginning today.

LATIN QUARTER habitues won't soon forget the entertainment-packed show Ted Lewis (now in his sixth decade) is putting on . . . We also take a fancy to Miriam Lavelle at the Statler Terrace Room and Sonny Richards at the Bradford Roof. Add Miriam's and Sonny's ages, and the sum is still two decades short of Ted's, whose showmanship has been a guide to youngsters for years . . . Ginny Simms, still packing 'em in, as we predicted, reveals she is an honorary Marine sergeant, which must remind her of her first uniform: She was only an usherette.

A MEXICAN magazine says the Boston Cabots originated in Spain. Well, John Cabot, who discovered the North American mainland was Giovanni Caboto, an Italian. But he sailed from Bristol, England, where, standing beside his memorial tower, we viewed the smoking ruins of Bristol after a murderous moonlight air raid on Good Friday in 1941 . . . That most beautiful of the beautiful houses on the north side of Mt. Vernon st., at No. 85, is the Beacon Hill home of Miss Evelyn Sears, former national tennis champion. And not to be confused with Eleonora, the star all-round athlete, whom Evelyn could beat at tennis . . . Farther down Mt. Vernon st., you'll find carriage lanterns in the doorways. There is really a huge pair at No. 58, home of Mrs. Robert Cushman, widow of a Mayflower descendant.

FLYING DISCS: Our Larry Green's recording of "Near You" may knock Francis Craig's off the top rung of the popularity ladder. Craig's recording of his own song-triumph has held first place for 14 weeks, as the most-played disc on the air. But Larry's leaped from 14th to sixth last week . . . Meanwhile two other recordings (Alvino Rey, Andrews Sisters) are even nearer the top than Larry's and gaining ground, but not so fast as his . . . At the store counters, Craig's is still the best selling disc, with Larry's third. "Pica-Nic-in," on the back of Larry's disc, doesn't hurt its sales a bit. It's nifty.

CONGRESSMAN JOHN F. KENNEDY, single-handedly, spiked a move of the veterans organizations to demand a special investigation of Col. C. H. Nance, Veterans' Administration New England chief, at the Parker House, Monday . . . For that, Col. Nance probably can thank Maj. Kenneth Newton, his director of special services, who is a vice-commander of the Joseph P. Kennedy Post, VFW . . . Quotes picked up at the same meeting: Tony Tieso, DAV commander: "There are many instances of disabled veterans not being given priority for New England branch jobs. That I stand ready to prove" . . . Roland MacDonald, Marine Corps League service officer: "Let's spend money on the veterans, not on statistics" . . . Congressman McCormack: "A fine idea, you veterans working in concert. I made my own personal investigation some weeks ago."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12—A young lady of my acquaintance, who does not come around here too often because her mother once warned her to shun evil companions, describes a situation she apparently believes to be fraught with the sinister.

"I had a very disturbing experience," she reports, in her most prissy manner. "Because I believe a lady is known by the company she keeps and also by the places she frequents, I usually eat lunch, when in the vicinity of Capitol Hill, at the cafeteria in the Methodist Building across from the supreme court.

"This edifice is headquarters for the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the Methodist Board of Temperance and other organizations dedicated to combatting loose living. I might remark in passing that I have never seen you there, although I have frequently spotted Sen. Capper of Kansas, Sen. Milliken of Colorado and Sen. Smith of New Jersey.

"I went in there the other day, feeling exalted to be among the righteous, and carried my tray to a rear table. It turned out to be one of those darned tables with wobbly legs. I bent over to inspect it and discovered an attempt to level it up had already been made.

"But imagine my consternation, when I found the prop was a stack of poker chips!"

THIS IS BEING TOLD about one of our most internationally-minded Senators. In Paris recently he was introduced to a big wheel in the United Nations Economic, Scientific, and Cultural organization.

"This gentleman," said the man performing the introduction, "is a leading statesman of UNESCO."

"Oh, yes," replied the Senator vaguely. "That's a nice little country—pays its debts, too."

I RAN A PIECE the other day speculating on how members of Congress could get back to Washington for the special session without exceeding their allowances for traveling expenses.

It was pointed out that Sen. Taylor of Idaho could come in on his horse and that Howard Hughes might go around picking up a few more strays in his flying boat. But the suggestions bogged down at that point.

Since then new ones have popped up. Sen. Overton of Louisiana reported from his home in Alexandria that he might paddle a canoe up the Mississippi and tributaries to Pittsburgh, and then portage the rest of the way here. Someone suggested that Rep. Alvin Weichel, chairman of the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, could come in on the tide.

It was also suggested that Sen. Capehart of Indiana, the big radio man, could come in on the beam; that Sen. Ball, of Minnesota, could bounce in, and that Rep. Harold Knutson, chairman of the House ways and Means Committee, could find a way that was very mean.

But the meanest suggestion of all involved Sen. Langer of North Dakota. It was proposed he seal himself in a Congressional envelope and frank himself in.

A SMALL ITEM about Amherst College appeared in an obscure corner of the paper the other day. A local gentleman named George Fean Shea clipped it out and sent it to Louis Caldwell, Washington attorney, who is an old Amherst man.

Mr. Shea dictated an accompanying note to his secretary, which began: "Because of your Amherst interests——." About ten minutes later the secretary returned and asked Mr. Shea if he wasn't being a bit too personal with Mr. Caldwell.

Surprised, Mr. Shea looked at the dictated letter. It began: "Because of your amorous interests——."

I HAVE WRITTEN many things about Mr. John W. Meyer, the lavish distributor of entertainment for Howard Hughes. Many of them have not consisted of fulsome flattery.

But Mr. Meyer never once complained. He took them all with the jovial stoicism of one who dearly loves to get his name in the papers.

The other day, however, he entered his first and only beef. And what do you suppose he objected to? He objected to being described as fat.

Bradley Cites Training as Policy Aid

By DAN MARKEL
Boston Evening American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12—Gen. Omar Bradley told the Hearst newspapers in an exclusive interview that Universal Military Training would bolster American diplomacy in its efforts to restore peace to a troubled world.

"If we were strong, the government could carry out our foreign policy with assurance," he said. "We can't have a strong foreign policy unless we have something to back it up."

The general, who commanded the 12th Army group in Europe during the war and who now heads the Veterans Administration, declared UMT would probably have prevented World Wars I and II, had it been in effect during the years Germany and Japan were preparing for aggression.

TRAINING LACK FELT

With universal military training in effect at the time Japan struck Pearl Harbor "we could have finished this war a lot sooner," Gen. Bradley said.

If there is another war, the general emphasized, there will be no time for extensive home training or preparation.

"In the last two wars other countries were attacked first," he said. "We had plenty of time to prepare.

"If we ever have another war we will be the first one to be jumped.

"No power starting a war in the future would make the same mistake that Germany did in two world wars—give us three years to prepare."

PEACE BOLSTER

Universal military training will be preparation for peace, not preparation for war, the general stressed.

"In a democracy like ours where we can only move at the consent of the people, I don't see how anybody can argue that preparedness will lead to war," he explained.

"Germany in two world wars and Italy under Mussolini have been cited as examples of nations which had military service and which went to war.

"But my contention is that it wasn't their preparedness that led to war but the idea of conquest in war that caused them to prepare for it.

"Switzerland and Sweden both have universal military training and perparedness for different reasons. They want peace, and because their manhood is trained democratically and efficiently they have maintained the peace and avoided every war that has swept Europe and the world in this age."

Gen. Bradley also answered objections raised by some universal military training opponents on the grounds of cost.

"The last war cost $300,000,000,000," he said. "How much would universal military training cost? Say $2,000,000,000 a year.

"I consider that cheap insurance. Any amount we spend, if it prevents another war, will be cheap compared with the cost of war."

British Budget Hikes Taxes But Fails to 'Soak the Rich'

LONDON, Nov. 12 (INS)—Chancellor of the exchequer Hugh Dalton submitted an emergency British budget to commons today but failed to "soak the rich" as anticipated.

On the contrary, his budget, which showed an "unprecedented" surplus of $1,012,000,000, struck heavily at the workingman's pocket.

There was no income tax increase. But Dalton applied drastic new levies on beer and betting and announced heavy increases in sales taxes.

The budget is likely to prove most unpopular with Prime Minister Attlee's Socialist followers.

Dalton said the new taxation was expected to raise $192,000,000 this year and $832,000,000 for the full financial year.

The profits tax will be doubled. Henceforth all goods now taxed at 16 2-3 per cent will be taxed at 33 1-3 per cent.

Those carrying a tax of 33 1-3 per cent will go to 50 per cent. Good taxes at 66 2-3 per cent now will be taxed 75 per cent. Items carrying a tax of 100 per cent will henceforth be taxed at 125 per cent.

The tax on tobacco will remain unchanged.

Dalton informed Commons that money wagered in football pools would be taxed 10 per cent. A similar tax was imposed on bets at dog tracks.

The tax on Scotch whisky will be increased 85 cents a bottle. The beer tax will be hiked slightly by less than two cents a pint. The tax on wines will be raised by $1 to $2 a gallon.

R. I. Special Session To Block Phone Rise

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 12 (AP)—Gov. John O. Pastore today called the Rhode Island Legislature into special session Nov. 19 to revise the public utility law so that a pending telephone rate increase will not automatically take effect Dec. 3.

The New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. previously had turned down a request of the governor that it waive its right under existing law to allow the higher rates to take effect.

Dutch Freighter Afire In South China Sea

MANILA, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Dutch freighter Alpherat messaged today it was afire in the South China Sea, approximately 150 miles southeast of Hongkong. It asked vessels in the area to stand by, but said it was not in immediate danger.

The Alpherat formerly was the 760-ton American ship Wheaton Victory, built by California Shipbuilding Corp. of Los Angeles in 1945.

Coal to Canada Seen Cutting N. E. Supplies

Cold homes appeared in the offing today for New England users of anthracite coal, following receipt here of a letter from Washington to Cong. John W. McCormack informing him that an embargo on shipment of hard coal to Canada was not possible under the law.

Deputy Director Wallace S. Thomas of the export division of the U. S. Fuel Supply Board wote that a war-time treaty between Canada and the U. S. permitted unlimited export. Thomas, however, pointed out that there now existed surplus supplies of pea and smaller sized coals and advised that this area take advantage of it.

Cong. McCormack had requested information on the possibility of an embargo on Canadian shipments when Massachusetts and other New England groups complained hard coal shipments were 22 per cent under quota.

Frank H. Larkin, president of the Boston Retail Fuel Institute, whose organization had originally requested the Canadian embargo, pointed out to McCormack that while production was down only four or five per cent, Massachusetts was receiving nearly 25 per cent less anthracite.

Larkin also pointed out that Canada's imports had jumped considerably over the past year and that Canadians were buying the grades of anthracite commonly shipped here. There is now in effect a two-month embargo on anthracite shipments to other foreign countries.

Husband 'Broke,' Hub Wife Freed

Her bridegroom installed her in the plush Barbizon Plaza Hotel, New York, for their honeymoon, then confided he was flat broke, Ms. Alicia Kehoe Dickman of Marlboro st., Back Bay, an attractive 28-year-old brunette, testified in probate court today.

Judge Robert G. Wilson, Jr., gave her an uncontested divorce, on grounds of cruel and abusive treatment, from Charles C. Dickman, formerly of Boston, now a Stockton, Cal., advertising man.

When Dickman told her the bad news at the honeymoon hotel, in 1944, they had no where to go, so they simply remained there and she paid the bills from her savings, the Back Bay woman said.

Their married life thereafter, until last year when they separated, was unhappy and he beat her as well as her five-year-old daughter by a first marriage, Patricia, Mrs. Dickman told the court.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

FIRST CAME THE KRUG report; then the Nourse report; and now the Harriman report. These, together with the Bevin report, form the program that the President will present to Congress on Nov. 17. And to the Congress will also be presented the Herter report, prepared by a committee of its own members and undoubtedly a plan worked out by Senator Vandenberg and John Foster Dulles related to Governor Dewey's address on the Marshall plan.

From the government's side, the Harriman report is most important for its grim honesty, its stark acceptance of the cold war. No longer can the soft-minded hopers for misunderstanding continue to deny what has been true since Yalta, and even before, that the United States was defeated in World War II, not by its foes, Germany and Japan, but by its ally, Soviet Russia.

And so Harriman faces the problem of the relief of Europe as though this country were at war with Russia. It is the first pronouncement of this nature by the government of the United States, for Averell Harriman speaks as a member of the President's cabinet in the course of official business. He said:

". . . We all know that we are faced in the world today with two conflicting ideologies. One is a system in which individual rights and liberties are maintained. The opposing system is one where iron discipline by the state ruthlessly stamps out individual liberties and obliterates all opposition."

The last words of his summary are:

". . . Wartime alliances have melted away. Yet it is safe to say that at no time in history has there been more need for western Europe and the United States to stand firmly together . . ."

IN EFFECT, this puts an end to the concept of one world. It is a recognition of the division of Europe into two camps, the Comintern and the anti-Comintern. American aid to Europe, in accordance with this statement, is to make war on Communism.

If the forthcoming meeting of foreign ministers finds no way of laying a basis for peace with Germany and Japan, then it is clear that this division of the world into two antagonistic groups has become an historic fact.

It means a separation between ourselves and the Russians, between the western nations and the Comintern nations. It means that the UN will become the exclusive agency of its present majority and that the Comintern nations will probably leave it in anger.

The western nations then must become realistic about aid from America. The Harriman report stresses unduly that:

". . . Aid from this country should not be conditioned on the methods used to reach these goals, so long as they are consistent with basic democratic principles . . ."

That is a refined way of saying that we ought not object to British Socialism. Actually, we ought to be absolutely certain that every dollar we contribute is used productively, that it is not wasted as the British loan was wasted, as much of UNRRA was wasted.

We ought to establish an authority that can co-operate in planning production without impairing sovereignty and we ought to provide credits on the installment plan so that there is every assurance that American productivity is used to stimulate European productivity and not to underwrite idleness and political penury.

IT WOULD BE a mistake to assume that Congress is going to permit the Harriman proposals to re-establish economic controls. It is impossible to control a segment of an economy. That always fails. As Bernard Baruch has said dozens of times, control is impossible unless everything is controlled.

The Administration would like to control some commodities but it dares not establish a totalitarian economy. Furthermore, it knows that if Congress begins to debate controls, it will never end the debate on aid to Europe. The injection of this issue may defeat the Administration's purposes.

Mr. Marshall last June made an ambiguous statement at Harvard which, however, became a hard fact when 16 countries took it up. We are now in the American stage of that problem, when the one country that is to be the provider has to speak. It is now out of the hands of diplomats; it is up to Congress to protect America while aiding Europe—and China.

Holy Land Clashes Kill 5, Wound 5

JERUSALEM, Nov. 12 (AP)—Five persons were killed and five wounded in the Holy Land today in two clashes involving authorities and Jewish groups.

Two 16-year-old Jewish girls and two youths were killed when police and troops raided an arms cache and weapons school, believed to have been conducted by the underground Stern organization, 10 miles north of Tel Avic.

A British police sergeant was slain at Haifa and two other sergeants and a constabale were wounded in a machine gun attack on a coffee house.

of a pound of fat a month, 8-9 of a pound of black bread a day, 10 grams of oleomargarine, 20 grams (two teaspoonfuls) of sugar and three tablespoons of cereal. Then there are 50 grams (one-third of a pound) of coffee-substitute and a like amount of salt. That is all.

There are a large number of women, mostly in middle age, working as street cleaners and brick salvagers. Among one such group—slatternly, sullen-eyed and chilblained people, who bore a strong stable odor and stood up, spraddled-legged, to look at me—I talked through a German interpreter.

"They say they get extra rations for this work," said the German, my driver. Where are their men? Two said they did not know, with fatalistic shrugs. One said, "A Russian war prisoner." Three said, unemotionally, "Dead," with no added details. One said, "Sick." That was the audit.

And always, as I prowled around, there were swarms of pre-adolescent kids. Yes! Counterparts of the same kids to whom we had given out chocolate during occupation after the first World War. The same lads who grew up to goose-step into line and shoot us when Hitler came to power. Still these are victims of disaster who crowded around with a question in their eyes.

"Don't leave anything lying around," warned the German driver. "Cigaret," ventured one tow-head in a half whisper. "Cigaret," chanted the rest in unison.

For one cigaret has as much exchange value as the marks their fathers can earn in hours of hard toil. An unskilled German worker may earn one mark, 50 pfennig, an hour, or 12 marks an eight-hour day. But a P-X cigaret (8c the package) has a market value of 4 marks.

Reading from his statistics, accepted by Chaplain Fitzpatrick as official, Dr. Hoffman said there were 80,000 new cases of tuberculosis in Berlin within the last half-year; that infant mortality was 40 per cent a: against a normal rate of less than two per cent; that 16,000 froze to death last winter. It makes an appalling ledger even to one like myself who has small sympathy for the German after watching America's youth twice called overseas in one generation, to fight for reasons it seldcm understood.

My belief is that either America should complete this occupation task to the full of our national ability and power, where discipline and humanitarianism are concerned, or we should chuck the job and get out. There is no middle course. For we cannot teach democracy on an empty belly and a naked skin.

Among the worst deficiency areas here is the region around the Titania Palatz, the movie house comandeered from German economy, and a recreation center, including a large snack bar for U. S. troops. The district is replete with hovels where people exist like maggots in a dog's bone. Yet the GI may dally over between-meal lunches, like milk shakes, frozen puddings, waffles, coffee and hamburgers, thus adding to his basic ration allowance of 3700 calories a day, while the German subsists, or doesn't, on a starvation 1500, sub minimum to health.

Not that any American begrudges the soldier his victuals and snacks.

I watched a girl and an older woman hauling a child's cart loaded with tree roots, angular hunks of dirt-encrusted wood which they must have dug painfully from the ground. Most of all, I looked at their hands—purple, twisted and ugly with swollen joints—chilblains. The girl was about sixteen, the woman around forty. And as I stared, the girl swept her eyes around and suddenly became conscious of her repulsive knuckles, which she tried to conceal under the sleeves of a tattered sweater. The gray-haired woman looked too, but she strode stolidly on.

Used Fats Pay Double or Better!

Most butchers pay much more for used fats today! That's because there's a world-wide shortage of fats and oils. Your Government has asked every woman "to continue to save and turn in every possible pound of used fat." Help relieve the shortage and also help yourself.

Pilot Drops Dead, Girl Saves Launch

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 12 (AP)—Patty Weindorf, 13-year-old Villa Maria High School sophomore, didn't get to her classes yesterday and here's the reason:

Patty, who says she doesn't know anything about boats, was being ferried across storm-whipped Presque Bay to school in a 36-foot launch by William Schauble, 60, because the road had been washed out. Halfway across the bay Schauble dropped dead at the wheel.

"I was scared stiff when he fell over," Patty told the Coast Guard after she had managed to beach the launch. "I asked him what I should do. He must have died right away because he didn't answer. I grabbed the wheel and somehow turned the boat around and headed back to shore."

JOSEPH E. FARRELL* SWITCHED TO CALVERT

JOE is a busy man these days—he's carpenter on new home building projects. "What switched me to Calvert," he says, "was its more agreeable taste. It's smoother than the high-priced whiskey I once favored."

BRIDGE is one of Joe's evening pleasures—and so is a highball made with Calvert. "My bridge pals are switching to Calvert, too," he says. "It makes sense—buying a whiskey that makes a drink smoother and milder."

If you would be wise about your choice of whiskey, switch to Calvert. Greater experience in blending has given Calvert a more congenial smoothness, a pleasanter taste, we believe, than other whiskies anywhere near the price!

City Hospital Cancels Tonsil, Adenoid Operations

Dr. James W. Manary, City Hospital superintendent, today confirmed reports that hospital surgeons will no longer operate on tonsil and adenoid cases, due to lack of trained personnel. Assurance was given, however, that this would not affect major surgical operations at the hospital.

The action was termed temporary by Dr. Manary, until the hospital is staffed with additional help and overcrowded conditions are relieved. He disclosed that some nurses were caring for as many as 60 patients each.

Incompatibility No Basis for Divorce

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 12 (AP)—The West Virginia Supreme Court ruled out incompatibility as ground for divorce, declaring "marriage is not a status that should be approached under the belief that if a person does not like it he can quit."

The unanimous opinion was delivered yesterday in reversing a Harrison County Circuit Court decree granting Hallie L. Harbert a divorce from his wife, Lulu, on charges of cruel and inhuman treatment.

The opinion found that while "the record shows beyond peradventure that these persons are unhappily married and they likely can never get along together . . . we cannot say this record shows that her conduct toward her husband has been cruel and inhuman."

Jap Joins U. S. Mother In Honor to Dead Flier

TOKYO, Nov. 12 (AP)—An American mother's devotion to the memory of her son, who died in the air over Nagoya in 1945, has prompted factory owner Sumio Ando to erect a memorial to the airman in Nagoya.

The American woman, identified only as Mrs. Foshi, has been sending a cash contribution each month to Nagoya "to be used in some sacred undertaking" in memory of her son. Hearing of her action, Ando financed construction of a memorial to the flier in the Nagoya Buddhist temple. The memorial will be unveiled Dec. 2.

Roxas Liberal Party Wins by Small Margin

MANILLA, Nov. 12 (AP)—President Roxas' liberal party apparently retained a bare working majority in the Philippines Senate on the basis of scattered incomplete returns from yesterday's national elections.

The Liberals had expected a landslide in balloting for eight senate seats and 45 governorships.

Marine Beaten to Death In Fight With Filipinos

GUAM, Nov. 12 (AP)—PFC Herbert H. Oliver of the Marines was beaten to death in a fight between two marines and 20 Filipino laborers in a tavern.

Four Filipinos were being held.

BOMBS DAMAGE BRUSSELS

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 12 (AP)—Several building were damaged last night when five bombs exploded in scattered parts of the town. Newspapers said they were aimed against former pronazi collaborators.

HEFTY TURN-OVER

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 12 (AP)—Highlan Park zoo workers were struggling today to cure for the biggest stomach ache in the zoo's history.

Gloria, the elephant, was laid up with chronic indigestion. To prevent the three-ton animal from getting hypostatic pneumonia, her keepers have to turn her over, from one side to the other, at intervals. And this, they said, was no cinch.

Old Fashioned Dining Room Gets Boost in Women's Poll

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12 (AP)—Now, will the men who build homes for others just bend an ear toward the little woman who has to live in them? What she wants.

Mrs. Arthur Mauerhan of Berkeley, Cal., told the Women's Council of the National Ass'n of Real Estate Boards today, is:

A separate dining room with doors to assure privacy — and opening on to a garden.

A laundry on the main floor—not in the basement.

A fireplace—located on the long wall with at least 10 feet of unobstructed wall space opposite.

And some of the things she doesn't want, Mrs. Mauerhan said after polling 300 members of the Berkeley Women's City Club, are:

Fireplaces, windows, sinks and bathtubs in corners.

Steps between rooms.

Rough-textured plaster walls.

Bathrooms opening into two rooms.

Front door chimes and peep holes.

Odd-shaped windows, "especially those small, high windows on either side of a fireplace."

And don't forget, cautioned Mrs. Mauerhan, modern architecture still has not alienated the American woman's preference for traditional Colonial or Cape Cod.

FairbanksKing In 'The Exile'

Once upon a time before "Amber" Charles II, while biding his time in exile in Holland until England got fed up with Cromwell's rule, fell in love with a beautiful and young Dutch innkeeper and swore he'd love her forever.

In the handsome sepia production, "The Exile," current on Keith Memorial screen, producer-writer Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., catches us up with this chapter in the life and times of England's rakish monarch.

In the tradition of the elder Fairbanks, young Doug, in his first independent production, has come up with a costumed action-drama and assigned himself to the lead as the exiled king.

Young Fairbanks' cinematic make-believing it must be said, far outranks his scripting which handicaps Max Opuls' direction, lagging lamentably in its approaches to the exciting sequences.

Maria Montez, co-starred with Fairbanks, Jr., plays an orchidaceous countess, an ex-flame of Charles', who travels with an extensive impedimenta of servants and trunks and jewel-boxes and a submarine-shaped contraption for teatime bathing.

While munching her tea a la tub, "Countess" Montez converses with the slightly amused king but it was so unintelligible as to be Sanskrit to us.

$500,000 PHILIPPINES FIRE

MANILA, Nov. 12 (AP)—A $500,000 fire swept the downtown area of Dagupan, 105 miles north of Manila on the Lingayan gulf. Three persons were reported missing.

HE TUNES IN ON APRIL 1 WAVELENGTH

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12 (AP)—It seemed more like April 1st than Armistice Day to Ted Wells yesterday.

Wells, proprietor of a radio shop, told police the day started off with arrival of a moving van. He hadn't ordered any. A second van arrived and the driver said he had been called to help the first one.

Then Wells received an order from a bar for a $1000 television set. He lugged it up a flight of stairs only to find that no one there had ordered it. A fire department roared up to his shop. But there was no fire. A taxicab arrived every hour, on the hour.

The weary Wells reported everything to the police when they arrived—seven carloads of them—at his establishment last night because someone reported that someone was being stabbed to death at that address.

"I can't imagine what it's all about," Wells told a reporter. "I thought it was Armistice Day but I'm ready to mobilize right now—er, just a minute, there's someone at the door."

Dietrich Star In Met Thriller

A British officer's pierced ears and war correspondent Quentin Reynolds' curiosity about them start something in "Golden Earrings" that make for 14-carat entertainment for Met filmgoers.

The marquee lure of Ray Milland and Marlene Dietrich indubitably get 'em into the theater. But it is the solid performances turned in by Miss Dietrich, as a fascinating, tempestuous gypsy; Milland, as a reluctantly responsive Britisher, and Mervyn Vye, as a handsome Gypsy king with a resonant baritone that keep 'em there to the finish.

Glamorous, blonde, exquisitely groomed Miss Dietrich wears a black wig and a bronze all-over makeup, is loudly boastful about her unwashed state, favors a lavish use of garlic in her groceries. And, believe it or sue us, her fascination survives.

Milland can hardly believe it at first, either, and then he succumbs completely to her dusky charms and uninhibited love-making.

Milland confidences to Reynolds, who incidentally plays himself with complete naturalness and persuasiveness, are unfolded on a plane trip from London to the continent.

In a flashback, Milland, as a British army colonel, and Bruce Lester, his aide on an espionage mission to Nazi Germany in 1939, are shown being caught and later escaping from the Gestapo.

Don't be deterred by this war angle, for it is light as a souffle and full of holes as Swiss cheese. It is the Milland-Dietrich sequences, especially the interludes when Milland is stiffly rebuffing the over-amorous Marlene that should amuse you no end. P.D.

Yule Fund to Buy Overseas Food

KIRKLAND, Wash., Nov. 12 (AP)—Kirkland merchants have voted to donate the funds usually spent for Christmas decorations to aid Europe's hungry peoples.

The money raised annually, more than $1500 last year, will buy food packages for overseas.

At principal entrances to the city, signboards will be raised bearing the words

"Our Christmas decorations have gone to Europe. The citizens of Kirkland."

"We hope other cities throughout the country will follow our plan," Arthur Needham, chairman of the committee in charge, said yesterday.

Patrons Crowd New Astor At 'The Fugitive' Premiere

By PEGGY DOYLE

Armistice Day throngs, believing they could commemorate the holiday no more appropriately, crowded the handsome new Astor Theater (on the site of historic Tremont Theater) yesterday for the world premiere of John Ford's "The Fugitive."

Based on the English novel, "The Labyrinthine Ways," by Graham Greene, and adapted for the screen by Dudley Nichols, "The Fugitive" is the eternal story of a man's faith against the powers of evil.

Because he is a realist as well as artist, Ford, three-time winner of the Academy Award, has brought this story of how a Latin-American government tries to stamp out religion and has the lone remaining priest executed by a firing squad shown on the screen with great dramatic vigor and emotion.

Although the country is unidentified and the time any time, now or 100 years ago, this made-in-Mexico morality classic is reminiscent of the Mexican government's efforts several decades ago to curtail the power of the Catholic church and control its priests.

Recalling the similar efforts of the Soviet government to erase religion in Russia, "The Fugitive" may also be interpreted as a vigorous, timely, topical attack on Communism. Those who may dismiss it as having limited religious appeal are overlooking its power as a dramatic awakening force against Communism in this country.

Henry Fonda, as the priest who is hunted like an animal because he dares to believe in God, performs with a quiet power and humility, Dolores Del Rio's good-bad woman, who gives aid to the hunted fugitive, is palely beautiful, passionately enraged at his persecutors and sincerely convincing.

J. Carrol Naish's mewling informer, Leo Carrillo's venal police chief, John Qualen's refugee doctor and Robert Armstrong's police sergeant are effective. Ward Bond's American bandit-murderer is as well acted as the script allows but it is not a well-resolved character. Pedro Armendariz's police lieutenant also seemed too complicated for his or our understanding, too much the storm-trooper to be given to self-doubting.

Gabriel Figueroa, twice winner of the Cannes International Award for best photography, delivers brilliantly in his department in this, the first John Ford-Merian C. Cooper Argosy Pictures production.

LOU COSTELLO, who always tries to be a hero but never quite makes it, returns to the screen with straight man, Bud Abbott, in "The Wistful Widow of Wagon Gap." It opens tomorrow on RKO Boston screen.

Fight Film at Loew's Twin Tough, Taut, Tense Story

Johnny Green's catchy torch song, "Body and Soul," suggested the title of the current film attraction on Loew's twin screens, and Hazel Brooks' materialist and Lilli Palmer's idealist symbolize it.

But don't let this throw you, laddie-bucks, for "Body and Soul" is a tough, taut, tense story of the prize ring that never pulls its punches throughout its exciting two-hour unreeling.

"Body and Soul," with John Garfield giving one of the best performances in his starry cinematic career, may not be a great picture but it will do until a better fight picture comes along.

Garfield plays a Jewish boy from New York's Lower East Side who punches his way to the world's middleweight champion.

He forsakes his poor but proud mother (Anne Revere), the only girl who truly loves him (Lilli Palmer), his boyhood pals only to waste his dough in reckless living. He thinks the world is his oyster until he's shocked into the realization that the racket owns him body and soul.

Canada Lee, as a cruelly exploited Negro ex-champ, turns in a fine, dignified, poignant portrayal. Lloyd Goff's slick fight operator and Miss Brooks' sleazy gold-digger are in dramatic contrast to Miss Revere's gentle East Side mother and Miss Palmer's genuinely loving sweetheart of the golden boy.

Use Doveskin Oil on Dry Skin

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
Beauty and Fashion Editor

ASK SOME WOMEN and they'll indignantly let you have it "in the teeth" that they've always been feminine and looked it . . . and what's all this shouting about the "new look" and recaptured femininity? What short memories we mortals have!

During the war years the feminine look was side-tracked by the war-plant look (girls in cover-alls and slacks, their hair bundled under a miner's cap, manning the assembly lines) . . . or the uniformed look (girls wearing regimented regalia pertinent to their fighting service contingent as the "man" behind the man behind the gun) . . . or the stiff, straight, governmental-restricted look (skimpy knee-length monstrosities fashioned from doled-out fabric garbing America's communal army of civic-minded women only as the law allowed) . . . or the war-worrying-for-the-safety-of-near-and-dear-ones look (the face lined with deep concern and fraught with anxiety telling its own unmistakable story of lost facial repose).

Women assumed masculine responsibilities . . . they also assumed masculine attitudes in clothes and facial expressions. There was no other choice.

During America's great struggle for the preservation of her way . . . and the only way of life . . . women had no incentive to splurge themselves . . . to indulge in feminine whims of face and figure . . . to capitalize on beauty's every wile . . . while some mother's son and some girl's sweetheart trudged through muck and mire in all the rat-holes of the world fighting for Uncle Sam and their own future security. It wasn't even considered decent to think frivolous thoughts . . . let alone look comfortably happy and irresistibly lovely.

So there's basic soundness behind the "new look" this season of requisite femininity when prettiness is purposeful. The world looks to America for beautiful women. It is a heritage no woman can deny. It is a standard every woman must set up for herself. Beauty, of course, is a relative term. It is no longer skin-deep, however. It is the capsule description of all the feminine and endearing young charms . . . manifested by a woman's alter ego and the inner dictation of her likes and dislikes. It is the sum total of all the big, little things that add up to a lovely, interesting, fascinating, appealing, personal and individual woman. If you have all the qualities, spiritual and physical . . . keep them under glass, you're a lucky gal!

But let me stop this sermonizing (a mood we frequently get into) . . . and get specific . . . especially about the achievement of an insinuating complexion charm without which there is no personal charm. Dry skin defects increase in sharpness and multiply more visibly when Jack Frost starts his lamented lacy pattern journey over the countenance. How's about nipping him in the bud before he starts nipping your complexion? Don't let him catch your facial skin with its defense down.

Not when there is a cosmetic counterpart to his insidious workings. Young or old . . . if your skin isn't the dove-soft smoothness it should be give it a drink of doveskin oil . . . an exceptionally right liquid formula for dry, sensitive tell-tale skin. Oatmeal Inexpensive Cereal

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

THOUGH YOU SERVE breakfast cereals every day, you'll not be called a spendthrift. For despite the continued rise in general food prices, a serving of oatmeal, for instance, costs approximately one cent.

Scotsmen, appropriately enough, were the first to appreciate the economy and nut-toasty appeal of oats. Thrifty highlanders enjoy oatmeal and milk in all seasons of the year. From oatmeal they make "brose" or porridge, and "bannocks" or cakes. Americans, too, are attracted by the rich whole-grain flavor of this nutritious cereal, and many consider it just about the best-tasting breakfast food they know. Scientific discovery of vitality-protecting vitamin B-1, food energy, protein, and iron has reassured oatmeal enthusiasts that their taste for the cereal is sound in a health-wise way.

As a meat extender and as an Ingredient in cookies, muffins, and cakes, oatmeal has moved to fields beyond its use as a breakfast food. Its versatility is largely attributed to improvement in the milling process during the past half-century and to scientists' discoveries of vital food elements in oatmeal.

Here are suggestions for using oatmeal around the clock:

GOLD MEAT LOAF

1½ lbs. ground beef
1 cup oatmeal, uncooked
1 cup grated raw carrots
½ cup chopped onion
2 beaten eggs 2 tsp. salt
1 cup milk ¼ tsp. pepper
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce

Combine all ingredients thoroughly. Pack into loaf pan (1½x8½ in.). Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 1 hour. Makes 8 servings.

Note: For Meat Patties—Reduce oatmeal to ¾ cup and milk to ¾ cup. Combine all ingredients. Shape into 12 patties. Pan fry in hot fat until brown.

OATMEAL REFRIGERATOR ROLLS

½ cup shortening
3 tbsp. sugar ¾ tsp. salt
½ cup boiling water
1 cup oatmeal
1 cake fresh yeast
½ cup lukewarm water
1 egg beaten
About 2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour

Mix shortening, sugar and salt with boiling water; add oatmeal: cool to lukewarm. Soften yeast in lukewarm water; add with egg to oatmeal mixture. Stir in enough flour to make soft dough—about 2¼ cups—and beat thoroughly; then cover, and store in refrigerator. It keeps 4 or 5 days. When needed, remove from refrigerator; form into small balls; place in greased or oiled 2½ in. muffin pans. Cover with a clean towel and let rise in warm place (80 to 85 deg. F.) until almost double in bulk - about 1½hours. Bake in a hot oven of 450 deg. F. for 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 24 rolls. If preferred, form, raise, and bake rolls as soon as mixed.

ORANGE TORTE

½ cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup sifted flour 1 egg
½ tsp. soda
1 tsp. baking powder
1 cup buttermilk ½ tsp. salt
1 orange 1 cup raisins
1 cup oatmeal

Cream shortening; gradually add sugar, creaming thoroughly. Add egg and beat until light and fluffy. Sift together flour, soda, baking powder and salt. Add to creamed mixture alternately with buttermilk. Squeeze orange. Grind orange rind and raisins through medium blade of food chopper. Mix with the orange juice and fold into batter. Add oatmeal, mixing lightly until combined. Bake in a greased 7 x 11-inch pan in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 45 to 50 minutes. Serve warm with hard sauce or whipped cream. 8 servings.

A New Role in Fashion

By EILEEN CALLAHAN

THE couture designers are doing very special things with pleating this season. They have lifted pleats right out of the blue serge skirt class and into the fashion spotlight. The old middy blouse wouldn't recognize its schoolgirl friend now. In the hands of our best designers, pleats have acquired new shapes, new uses, new importance.

Pleats are pressed into knifeblade thinness and gradually widened until they are soft and full. They are flared into tight little bouquets which let out to become loose cascades. They are arranged in floating tiers or separated into panels that alternate with plain pieces of the same material. Pleated sections of a dress are sometimes twisted tightly around the figure so that the pleats form an intricately interlaced design.

The cocktail dress designed by Hattie Carnegie and sketched today is made of bright rose taffeta. Panels of tiny pleating run lengthwise up each side of the dress, over the shoulders and down the back. The pleats are pressed out to make alternate plain panels. The midriff is entirely pleated and twisted.

Smart Set Repeat Deb Ball

By BETTY ALDEN

BOSTON SOCIETY GIRLS who were debutantes in the six social seasons from 1936 to 1941 had so much fun at their first deb reunion ball they have completed plans for an encore party Dec. 5th at the Hotel Puritan.

Mrs. Arthur H. Brooks, Jr., and Mrs. Robert J. Miller, co-chairmen of the December Ball committee, tell us that the husbands and men friends of this group are also looking forward to the party for it is one of the only social occasions where they meet contemporaries of their stag line days.

Mrs. Nelson Odman

Debs of '36-'41 assisting on the committee include Mrs. F. Reed Estabrook, Jr., Mrs. Bradley Dewey, Jr., Mrs. John L. Allen, Mrs. Seneca B. Anderson, Mrs. Samuel Haydock, Mrs. Edward B. How Smoky Won Hero Dog Medal

Smoky, a shaggy setter, pulled the unconscious form of his master from an automobile, which had plunged into a rain-swollen creek, and swam ashore with him.

For this uncommon devotion in placing his master's life above all else, Smoky is the recipient of the first medal to be awarded by Heroic Dogs, Inc., a new organization formed by a group of prominent humanitarians.

Smoky's amazing feat, and the valorous deeds of other dog heroes, will be described in a thrilling article, "Heroic Dogs, Inc.," in next Sunday's American Weekly, magazine issued with the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

damage. Emergency crews were rushed to the worst areas to effect relief measures.

The overflow of telephone calls went to the City Hall switchboard which was unable to handle all of them, resulting in the disruption of normal city business.

T-Wharf and Long Wharf, battered by an abnormal high tide, were awash, marooning apartment dwellers there and forcing truckers to climb from their cabs to enter business establishments. The water level was so high engines were drowned and many cab interiors were ankle deep.

WATER ON ATLANTIC AVE.

Fruit dealers who arrived at Long Wharf early to pick up their produce were caught by the rising waters and either were unable to start their vehicles or to move out if the engines caught.

Sea water washed across Atlantic ave., is well, partially paralyzing traffic.

The weather bureau here issued a special storm warning this afternoon, reporting that a severe storm, centered in the vicinity of Nantucket Island, is moving slowly northeastward. Storm warnings were displayed from Eastport to Block Island, where offshore winds touched 70 miles an hour.

A collier carrying 1500 tons of coal limped into port at Somerset, Mass., with a hole torn near its keel. She was the Proctor, out of South Amboy, N. J.

The Danish freighter Marchen Maersk, with a Far East cargo, twice tried to dock at the Army Base here but was forced to abandon the attempt and move back into the outer harbor.

All longshore activities were cancelled and mooring lines were doubled at all docks to hold ships firmly to the pilings.

TRAINS DELAYED

All flights at Logan airport were grounded. Even if New York trips had been approved, the aircraft probably could not have landed at LaGuardia Field, which was completely flooded by seas surging over breakwaters.

At Back Bay station, rain waters seeped into signal blocks, causing long delays in mainline service to New York, Needham and New Bedford.

All South Shore trains crossing the Neponset Bridge were ordered to reduce speed to 10 miles an hour because of flooded tracks.

The railroad company looked hills for taxis for 15 passengers forced to leave the 8 a. m. train to Woods Hole at Falmouth because of track washouts. Fares were paid to Woods Hole.

Eight other passengers from Woods Hole to Boston were taken by taxi to Falmouth to connect with trains.

SURF SLAMS SEAWALLS

The North and South Shore areas bore the brunt of a raging attack by the swollen seas.

The pounding surf slashed across seawalls at Winthrop and Beachmont, threatened to uproot sections of concrete sidewalks and iron railings and swirled into side streets.

Large areas of Hough's Neck, Squantum and Wollaston were so badly flooded that traffic was completely at a standstill and scores of residents were marooned by two-foot high waters circling their homes.

Wollaston boulevard was filled with debris washed up by the seas and small boats riding at anchor in the bay were capsized

LIGHTING WIRES DOWN

High tension wires swept down by the wind plunged into darkness all of Hough's Neck and part of Quincy up to the central police station. Similarly affected were parts of Squantum and Atlantic.

At Hingham, light and power wires went down in many sections. Ice was forming on trees and windows.

Failure of electric power meant oil burners controlled by current could not function and spelled severe suffering for homes so equipped with the temperature now only a few degrees above the freezing point and scheduled to drop near or below that mark tonight.

Police waded hip-deep into the underpass in Granite st., Quincy, to attach towing lines to two pleasure cars and a truck stalled in water reaching to the car seats, while the occupants crouched on the seats to escape the flood.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Webb, Natasco ave., Hull, were evacuated from their home by police when water reached the kitchen.

Nurses and interns wielded mops in the Cambridge City Hospital accident ward in a futile effort to stem the tide flowing in from a ramp leading to that room.

Irate Cambridge mothers, forced to put their young school children in hot baths to ward off severe colds, were telephoning the Cambridge office of the Boston American, demanding the ouster of the school committee for waiting until 11:10 a. m., the height of the storm, to cancel school sessions and send the youngsters home.

The high wind and the rain caused interruptions in Western Union service throughout southern New England.

Boston & Albany trains were delayed by an embankment washout at Newton.

Parched Aroostook County, Me., drouth-ridden for almost two months, was finally drenched by rain today.

'Guilt' Big Shots Back Strauss in Television War

By DAN PARKER

NEW YORK, Nov. 12—D. D. T. has found its way into the council halls of the Fight Managers' Guilt. The reference is not to the well-known insecticide, but to "double-dealing treachery" which has split the organization into two hostile camps.

Instead of "One for all and all for one," the motto now is "Everyone for THEIRself." The fight for a share of the radio and television plum, totaling $310,000 per year, which the 20th Century Sporting Club has been pocketing for itself, is the cause of the dissension among the Guiltsmen.

Back in the days when Mike Jacobs was handling his own affairs, he succeeded in getting the late Gen. John J. Phelan's Boxing Commission to insert in Garden and St. Nick contracts (but in no other club's!) the stipulation that the fighter who signed it would waive all rights to radio and television money. There was no public announcement of this change and it was some time before a manager took the trouble to read the contract he was signing and discovered the "joker" that had been inserted, surreptitiously.

When the Guilt appointed a committee recently to dicker with Sol Strauss, the 20th Century Club's barrister-promoter, about an equitable division of the radio and television gravy, Sol, shifting into high dudgeon, bade them begone before he had each of them by the scruff of the neck. The Guilt thereupon held a "revenge" meeting and voted to set Nov. 15th as a deadline beyond which no Guilt manager could deal with either the Garden or the St. Nick unless Strauss capitulated on the television deal.

Threatens to Explode

AT THIS TURN of events, Promoter Strauss became Sol the Conciliator. He urged the Guilt to give him until next March, when he is negotiating a new contract with the radio and television sponsors, to work out a satisfactory settlement of the dispute. Most of the Guiltsmen were for telling Sol to go jump off a tort. But when they met last Friday in emergency session to decide upon a course of action, they found that the two stanuchest supporters of Strauss's plea were Frankie Jacobs, the Guilt's vice president, and Jackie Levine, managers, respectively of Tony Janiro and Ruby Kessler who are jut now trying to arrange a match between their boys at the Garden. As if that weren't enough to infuriate the Guiltsmen, they also learned that Oiving (Butter Wouldn't Melt In His Mouth) Cohen, who, with Jacobs, is credited with putting Chickie Bogad in as Garden matchmaker and Teddy Brenner in the corresponding post at the St. Nick, had signed with Strauss for a bout for Billy Graham in violation of the Nov. 15th deadline and that Tommy Ryan had agreed to a Garden match for Tony Pellone, which also broke the Guilt's solid front.

What made the Gorgonzola all the more griping in these two cases was the fact that Oiving and Tommy are members, already yet, of the Executive Committee! Thus, while the rank and file of the membership which has no "in" with the 20th Century organization was fighting the Guilt's battle, the big guys who get all the choice bouts were carrying the ball for Sol Strauss—their enemy! And Bill Daly, who with Frankie Jacobs, is so concerned about "stool pigeons" in the ranks, was also in there battling for Uncle Sol.

Although the Guilt finally agreed to extend for one month the deadline beyond which any Guiltsman who dickers with the Garden or 20th Century Club will be a rotten egg, the discovery of disaffection among high ranking members has converted the organization into a seething cauldron, that threatens to explode all over Jacobs Beach.

Public Regrets Notre Dame-Army Break

THE ARMY-NOTRE DAME game has come and gone leaving behind it, instead of unpleasant repercussions, a widespread feeling of genuine regret that these two traditional gridiron rivals have broken off relations, even temporarily. So far, no excuse for ending the series has been offered that couldn't be applied to many other popular fixtures on the football calendar. In common with most other football followers, this bureau hopes the senseless breach will be repaired quickly.

AS PART of the campaign to glamorize Jersey Joe Walcott for his bout with Joe Louis at the Garden, Dec. 5th, the legend is being circulated that Joe made his comeback despite the opposition of John Hall, who was New Jersey's Boxing Commissioner at the time. The facts in the case are that, after the Lem Franklin tragedy in Newark, Commissioner Hall wanted to make sure that anyone licensed by him was fit to fight. When Walcott applied to Hall for a license in September, 1944, the Commissioner told him to come back with his birth certificate and his ring record. This Walcott neglected to do until December. But Hall issued his license immediately when he was able to check upon his age and experience. Walcott was born Jan. 31, 1914, in Merchantville, N. J., and is the father of five. He will be seven weeks shy of 34 years old when he faces Louis and Joe will be five months and one week short of the same milestone.

Big Nine Ban on ND Seen; Irish Sign New '48 Foes

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 12 (AP)—Is Notre Dame becoming a football Frankenstein, too powerful for its own good? It is no secret that the university has run into schedule difficulties and that some schools of the gridiron class required for a representative season are being scared off.

The severing of relations with Army—whether the 34-year-old rivalry had become dangerously over-emphasized or for off-the-record reasons involving personalities—shocked many Notre Dame alumni.

And now, just a few days after the Irish walloped the Cadets 27-7 in the series' finale, come reports that Coach Frank Leahy offered his resignation.

Leahy was unavailable for direct comment on whether he had offered to resign or not.

His private secretary said he had left instructions not to be disturbed and added that 73 telephone calls from throughout the nation had been placed for Leahy following the reports of his offering to resign.

Privately, the Army's attitude may be similar to that held by several Big Nine schools—that Notre Dame simply is too powerful a customer to handle along with seven or eight other teams on a season's schedule.

Michigan, Ohio State, Illinois and Minnesota decided to shun the Irish, and there may develop a complete unanimity in the Big Nine to cold shoulder them. Several Conference coaches, however, have gone on record with the comment: "You certainly can't beat 'em unless you play 'em."

Big nine schools which have ended relations with Notre Dame contend that preparations for the game and the let-down of an overwhelming defeat which generally comes, minimizes their chances of winning the conference championship—which, after all, is what they are in business for.

Penn, Columbia and Harvard are three other schools which declined a chance to face the Irish.

Two big nine teams, Northwestern and Iowa, are on the Irish 1948 schedule, which has not been officially announced. It will list the start of at least two new home-and-home series—with Michigan State and the University of Washington.

FALL RIVER Freddie Kozak, who is the leading ground gainer, will display his plunging prowess when the Bruins tangle with Harvard at the Stadium on Saturday. Kozak, a versatile left halfback, was a triple sports star at Durfee High before entering the Army. The 168-pound speed merchant also handles the punting chores for the Bruins.

Harvard Must Stop Finn; Brown QB Clutch Player

In the eight times that Dick Harlow has sent Harvard elevens against Brown, he has compiled the enviable record of seven wins and only one loss. The first three years of his Crimson reign, he ran up scores of 33-0, 28-0 and 34-7, before the Bruins finally broke into the win column in 1938 with a 20-13 victory.

With two impressive wins over Holy Cross and Yale behind them, the rejuvenated Bears are currently far from being the breather that most of the Ivy League teams found on their schedules last fall.

Coach "Rip" Engle, himself a former pupil of Harlow's at Western Maryland, operates his attack from a T-formation with brilliant Ed Finn, a 19-year-old junior, as the key man in the backfield. This star from Bethlehem, Pa., is a classy ball-handler and directs the offense from his strategic quarterback berth.

An excellent passer, he has run up one of the highest totals for yards gained from forwards. It was Finn who executed the last minute score against Holy Cross that sent the Crusaders away a one-point loser, and it was Finn again last week who skillfully maneuvered to upset heavily favored Yale.

Back for a fake placement kick, he straightened up and fired a pass to Chuck Nelson in the end zone to tally the touchdown that proved to be the winning margin over the Elis.

Another cog in the Brown backfield is Fred Kozak who hails from Fall River, Mass. This extremely speedy left halfback picks his holes nicely and is a hard man to bring down.

Kozak has been the most consistent runner in the Bears ground attack and in addition is a punter par excellence. He was a three-sport star at Durfee High School where he captained the football team in his senior year. A little scatback, he weighs 168 pounds and is only 5 feet 8 inches in height

M'Laughry Juggles Green Backfield

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 12 (AP)—It is likely that a revamped Dartmouth backfield will be in action against Cornell here this week-end when the Indians complete their home season.

Yesterday Coach "Tuss" McLaughry worked quarterback Joe Sullivan, halfbacks Connie Pensavalle and "Chipper" Chapman and fullback Fran O'Brien as a unit during a bruising scrimmage against the strong freshman squad.

Sullivan, who completed six of his 13 wet-ball passes against Columbia, completed touchdown heaves to winger Dale Armstrong and sub halfback Eddie Williams during the free-scoring drill.

Robinson Wins Chicago Award

CHICAGO, Nov. 12 (AP)—Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn Dodgers' star Negro first baseman, will be presented "rookie of the year" award tonight by Jack Ryan, chairman of the Chicago Baseball Writers Ass'n of America.

The Chicago chapter voted Robinson the honor following a poll of four writers in each major league city. Robinson, who will be in Hollywood Jan. 18 making a movie when the Chicago chapter has its annual dinner, will receive the award tonight while making a personal appearance at a south side theater.

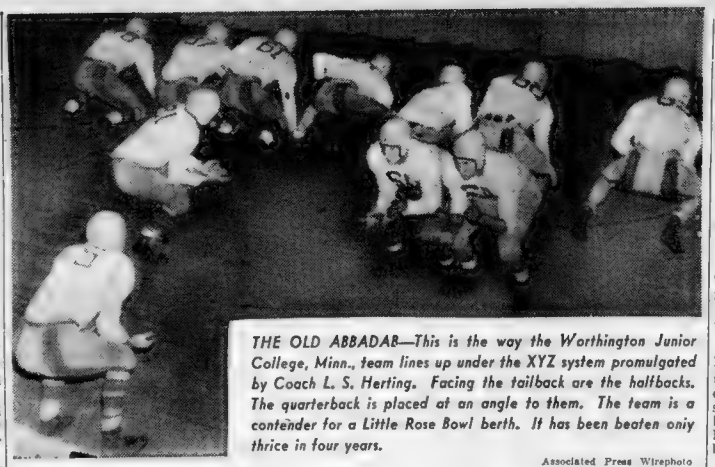
Aussie Pails Flies to Join Pro Net Group

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 12 (AP)—Dinny Pails, Australia's amateur tennis champion and Davis cup player, left by air today for the United States to embark upon a professional career.

"I am going to America for business reasons, which in all probability will eventuate in my turning professional," said the 26-year-old star.

"I will meet promoter Jack Harris in San Francisco, where we will join Jack Kramer, the American amateur champion, and possibly Pancho Segura. I expect that contracts will then be signed for the three of us to join the present world professional champion, Bobby Riggs, in a tour."

Pails said he hoped the professional group could arrange a tour of Australia next April and May.



THE OLD ABBADAB—This is the way the Worthington Junior College, Minn., team lines up under the XYZ system promulgated by Coach L. S. Herting. Facing the tailback are the halfbacks. The quarterback is placed at an angle to them. The team is a contender for a Little Rose Bowl berth. It has been beaten only thrice in four years.

Says XYZ System Simplifies Coaching

WORTHINGTON, Minn., Nov. 12 (AP)—If you think you've seen just about everything on the football field, don't give up. For Coach L. S. Herting of the Worthington, Minn., Junior College has something different. He calls it the XYZ system and claims several advantages for it. Among them, he says, are easier coaching and simplification of the game for the players. In addition, it provides something novel for the fans to watch.

With his XYZ system Herting built little Worthington Junior College into a contender for a place in the little Rose Bowl game in Pasadena, Cal. Those chances were dimmed considerably Tuesday when Rochester, Minn., Junior College took a 13-to-6 decision over Worthington.

Herting still feels that the system has been responsible for his team's record. Tuesday's defeat was but the third in the four years Herting has used the system against 20 victories. That record has been compiled against teams in four states, most of them from schools larger than Worthington.

Perhaps the most novel part of the XYZ system is the placing of backfield men, which at first glance gives the impression that three of the boys have made terrible mistakes—they're heading the wrong way.

The two halfbacks are placed behind right guard and tackle with their backs to the linemen. They face the tailback in the usual spot. The quarterback is placed behind the left guard, but at an angle facing the halfbacks.

It may sound peculiar, but Herting insists its the most simplified system of football and is the easiest to teach. Backfield men have but three sentences to memorize to learn all their running assignments. And, Herting says, any back is in position to pass at any time.

Deception is a strong point of the system on offense, Herting claims, because any of the four potential ball carriers can be lugging the ball. On occasion even officials have been fooled into whistling down the wrong man under the impression he had the ball.

Decoying of opposing men out of position rather than downfield blocking is stressed, the coach says, because a one-man decoy can pull three or four opposing players out of pisition. Downfield blocking, he points out, takes man-for-man contact.

A more or less orthodox running game can result from the system, Herting claims, by the use of the word "power" in the huddle. That sends the three men assigned to decoy jobs out as interference for the ball carrier.

Passing also is a strong point of the system, with laterals being stressed by Herting. He says that any of the three backs are in position to lateral to the tailback at any time, thus adding to the deception, and, sometimes, confusion.

Hometown Fans Fete Marchildon

PENETANGUISHENE, Ont., Nov. 12 (AP)—Phil Marchildon, who will be the guest of the largest party ever staged in this Simcoe country town tomorrow sees a good season ahead for the Philadelphia Athletics in the American League baseball race next year, and thinks that "regardless of climate" it would pay pro teams to scout Canadian sandlots more thoroughly.

At his home here for the hunting season after touring with Bob Feller's all-stars, the former RCAF tail-gunner and now star pitcher, thinks that if Connie Mack obtains the replacements he's after the A.'s will present even a better showing than last year when they finished fifth, after holding on in the first division most of the season.

GOMEZ COMES BACK

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 12 (AP)—Tommy Gomez will meet Joe Matisi of Endicott, N. Y., in a 10-round heavyweight bout here Nov. 25 in another climb up the comeback trail for the Tampa fighter.

Montgomery Returns To Ring Nov. 24

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12 (AP)—Bob Montgomery, former Pennsylvania-New York lightweight champion, will make his first appearance since losing his title to Ike Williams when he steps in the Arena ring here Nov. 24 for a 10-rounder against Livio Minelli, Milan, Italy, welterweight.

N. H. to Open Deer Area For Archers

ALLENSTOWN, N. H., Nov. 12 (AP)—New Hampshire took steps today to give the bow and arrow artist some deer hunting.

The State Forestry and Recreation Commission announced it will open the 4000-acre Bear Brook game refuge here to bow and arrow hunting for the period of Dec. 1-21.

State Fish and Game Director Ralph G. Carpenter, who approved the dates to coincide with the deer-by-rifle season in central and southern countries, said he believed it was the first time in New England that a deer area had been opened solely to archers.

The regulations say the bow must have a minimum pull of 40 pounds, the arrow must have a broad head of ⅞ inches to one and one-half inches and the arrows must be inscribed indelibly with the archer's name.

Archers will not be permitted to carry fire arms in the game refuge and mechanical devices may not be used.

Norwich Favorite Over St. Michael's

NORTHFIELD, Vt., Nov. 12 (INS)—The Norwich Cadets prepared today for their season's finale against St. Michael's College and for the first time were in the favored role.

Stowe Shoemaker and Jim O'Connor, both hospitalized with broken ribs, are the only members of the squad not ready for this game.

34 Eagles To Go South

Playing their first, and only game on the road this season, the Boston College Eagles will entrain for Knoxville, Tenn., tomorrow afternoon from the South Station. They will meet the Volunteers Saturday in the fourth game of a rivalry which sprung up in the Sugar Bowl meeting on New Year's Day, 1941.

BC won the Bowl engagement, 19 to 13, but the Southerners evened the count the following season, winning by a 14-7 margin. Relations were suspended during the war, but last season the Neyland-coached eleven won, 33-13. Thus the Vols have a 2-1 edge in the series.

Still smarting from their one point loss to Wake Forest, the Eagles hope to keep the dim flicker of their Bowl hopes alive by beating the Volunteers by a decisive margin.

Col. Bob Neyland is suffering his most disastrous season since he took over the head coaching reins at Knoxville. The Vols have won but two games from Chattanooga and Tennessee Tech, while losing to Georgia Tech, Duke, North Carolina and Mississippi.

It will mark the first time that BC has met Tennessee on the latter's home field. The Bowl game was played in New Orleans, and both of the other tilts were played in the Hub.

Those expected to make the trip include:

BACKS—Steve Sitka, Jim Benedetto, Al Cannavo, E. Clasby, Bernie Lanoue, Joe Diminick, Ed Songin, Bob Palladino, Maurice Poissant, Jack Farrell, Al Songin, Bill Morre, Willie De Rosa and Tom Brennan.

LINEMEN—John Ring, Art Spinney, Stan Goode, Joe Kulis, Bob Chouinard, Ed Kennedy, Art Donovan, Angelo Nicksiakis (Capt.), Al Murray, Bill McCarthy, Roy Norden, John Furey, Chet Lipka, Tom Papales, Mario Gianelli, Ed King, John Kinsell, Alble Gould, Art Cesario and Stan Giordano.

Orange Bowl Board Drops B. C. Off List

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 12 (AP)—The University of Virginia apparently showered Miami's Orange Bowl committee with some of that good ole Virginny hospitality up in Philadelphia Saturday, for the members arrived home with nothing but bows for the Cavaliers despite their loss to Penn.

The hospitality was incidental, for the Orange bowlers, who haven't thought a lot of Virginia-type football heretofore, were overly enthusiastic about Virginia's team and said the 19-7 score "didn't tell the story."

To hear some of them talk, all they must be waiting for is the North Carolina vs. Virginia game Nov. 29. It looks like the winner could be one of the two teams to be invited.

For one reason or another, the East's four leading representatives, Pennsylvania, Penn. State, Columbia and Boston College, have definitely been crossed off the Orange Bowl's list of possibilities.

Celtics to Scout Caps-Bullets Game For Loop Opener

By SAM BROGNA

As Coach John Honey Russell and his Celtics' squad entrained today for the Capital to scout the Basketball Association of America league opener tonight between the Washington Caps and the new entry, the Baltimore Bullets, two of his star players were nursing injuries.

Pint-sized Charlie Hoefer joined big Ed Sadowski when he came down with a Charlie horse. Last week, Sadowski was ordered to rest a week when he developed bursitis in his left elbow, following an injury that required two stitches to close.

It was doubtful whether they would start tomorrow night in Baltimore where the Celtics open their 48-game schedule with the Bullets but Russell has hopes of using them.

In an effort to get a line on two of the Celts' opponents during the next three days, Russell thought it would benefit his boys if they witnessed tonight's loop lifter. Following tomorow night's game with Baltimore, the locals test Washington in the Capital, Saturday.

Sandwiched between the two away-from-home games, the Celtics pry the lid off their 24-home game schedule Friday night at the Garden with last year's champions, the Philadelphia Warriors.

Before the Beantowners departed, Honey announced he would test his two platoon system. In all probability, his first unit will be his running five with the passing team relieving them.

Russell also announced the sale of Gerry Kelly, a holdover of last year's team to the Providence Steam Rollers. Earlier, Kelly had been optioned to Minneapolis of the National League but Coach Hank Soar of the Providence five liked Kelly's showing during the team's three-game exhibition tour last weekend and decided to buy him.

FIGHT FOR MASCOT

VILLANOVA, Pa., Nov. 12 (AP)—Villanova footballers are going to dedicate the Georgetown game Friday night to their kidnaped mascot, Count Villain, 3d.

Count Villain was taken from the Villanova campus last Thursday by a group of Georgetown students. Four Villanova College sophomores engaged in a free-for-all at Washington, D. C. yesterday in a futile attempt to recover the wildcat.

Television Will Aid 'All' Selecting 45

By FRANK LEAHY
Head Coach at Notre Dame

In many ways the annual custom of naming All-America teams is unfair. This does not mean that the men who make the picks are not careful to name to these mythical teams those who, in their honest opinion, are the most outstanding players.

They are as fair as is humanly possible. The fact remains, however, that fate has more than a little to do with the final selections.

For example, two boys with equal ability do not always find this ability equally rated at season's end when All-America picks are announced. One boy, through fate, plays on a winning team. The other lad plays equally hard but finds himself on a team finishing low in victories and national standing.

Nine times out of ten the boy on the winning team gets preference. Check this year's All-America selections and see if we are far wrong in this assumption.

Off hand, Bobby Forbes of the University of Florida is a good example of what we mean. Past the halfway mark of the season, Bobby was leading the nation in yards gained from scrimmage—the tough way, we might add.

Not counting last Saturday's game, Florida has won but two of six games played. The 'Gators are a team on the way back after lean years.

Despite playing on a losing team, Forbes maintained his dazzling pace. On a Big Name eleven he would be a safe bet for numerous All-America selections.

Professional football has proved this time and time again. Widely publicized players from larger schools have given way to talented youngsters whose abilities have been hidden under bushels of defeat.

Nation-wide television may right this wrong. Then experts can flip a dial and watch games being played across the country.

The experts, being fair-minded men, will welcome that day. Of this you can be sure. And then the Bobby Forbeses of the nation will come into their own.

Recently we were asked if we could explain the rapid development of Johnny Lujack as a masterly forward passer. Johnny was good last year, but is even better this season.

The answer is Sidney Luckman. When this fine boy graciously agreed to help us with spring practice he did more than help push Lujack up the ladder of aerial success.

His presence on our campus, an honor to us at Notre Dame, proved again that in sports, as in life, a man's race or religion has nothing to do with his character or ability.

Tufts' Injury List Now Swelled to Five

The injury list at Tufts swelled to five names today as the Jumbos practiced for the last game Saturday against the University of Massachusetts.

First string halfback Johnny Calagione reported yesterday with a bad shoulder and left end Lou Bournazos sustained a leg injury. Also hurt are right end Rudy Fobert, halfback Julie Doliner and fullback Johnny Kochiss.

SPORTS MIRROR

TODAY A YEAR AGO—Army topped the Associated Press football writers' poll with 1300½ points, 34 points more than second-place Notre Dame.

THREE YEARS AGO—Washington Redskins remained undefeated in the National Professional Football League by defeating Brooklyn Dodgers 10-0 for theri fifth victory.

FIVE YEARS AGO—Declaring it was unable to lend further financial aid to the Philadelphia Phillies, the National League said it might force a sale of the club.

Danvers Sportsmen To Hear Dog Expert

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

In keeping with the gunning season, the Danvers Fish and Game Club will highlight its meeting at the Masonic Temple, tomorrow evening, at 8:15, with a talk by Charles Olson, of the Beagle Club of Massachusetts, who will also present some interesting films. Mr. Olson will discuss the primary training of a hunting dog, a subject dear to the hearts of myriads of outdoorsmen.

The Danvers club is one of the most active we have visited, and is justifiably proud of its nice trout pool. Donald Mead, fishing chairman, tells us that the pool was closed officially the first of November, although any member is permitted to fish until ice appears.

Despite the drouth, there are places in the pool having three feet of water, which is encouraging, for local rivers and ponds are very, low. There are about 100 brown trout in the pool at present, and it is hoped that many will survive until next spring.

To club gunners, Pres. Harley Forsythe states that the Division of Wildlife Research and Management of the Dept. of Conservation, in co-operation with the Univ. of Mass., is anxious to collect tails and wings from as many ruffed grouse as possible.

Such items will aid the division in determining the ratio of males to females, plus the ratio of adults to juveniles.

The tails and wings may be sent, with a slip of paper giving the name of the hunter, date, and place shot, to Dr. R. E. Trippensee, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass.

The club will hold turkey shoots at the small bore range, Friday, Nov. 14; Monday, Nov. 17, and Friday, Nov. 21. Time of the contests is set from 8 p. m. until 10 p. m., and members and their guests are welcome to try for turkeys at a nominal fee.

So. Shore Grid Sweep Elates Donahue

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Elated over the showing of South Shore teams in the past two weeks, Coach Jack Donahue of North Quincy High School's Class C leaders scoffed at the "over-rated football clubs on the North Shore and north of Boston" which have been dominating the schoolboy grid picture—a very irritating situation to the coach as well as the majority of the local fans.

Nothing pleased Coach Donahue more (except possibly the happy result of an auto accident that nearly cost him a pair of first stringers for the remainder of the season) than the "big triple" scored in the last two Saturdays.

Brockton High actually started the upheaval by walloping a Malden club that was being rated as a likely contender for the Class A crown. Quincy followed up with a terrible pasting of Newton, a highly regarded "Greater Boston" eleven. To complete the circuit, North belted Winthrop for a clean sweep that forced the verbal torrent from the successful Red Raiders' mentor.

"We don't get the recognition that's accorded the other schools," declared Donahue, "but we're still winning ball games down here from the best they have to offer."

Coach Donahue had just finished scanning his hospital list very much relieved that Jim Pontes, guard, and Joe Collins, tackle, were not among the casualties.

The pair were sideswiped by a hit-and-run driver Saturday night and it had been feared that they had been badly injured. However, they escaped with only slight bruises (so slight that they were back at practice today) although their car turned over more than once in the accident.

North, meeting Norwood Saturday afternoon at the Quincy Stadium, had two players sidelined with grid slams—and they're enough. Back Bob Richards, suffering a concussion against Winthrop, has not yet returned to school. End Joe Riley still has his hand in a cast as the result of a break received in the Milton game.

Coach Dave Morey's resignation at Marblehead High had hardly been accepted by the school committee than new candidates were being named by the fans . . . No. 1 in prominence is Herm Hussey, former Lynn and Fordham star and the present assistant to Morey . . . the ex-Bates leader was very bitter in denouncing the subcommittee on athletics for their "lack of co-operation."

However, it's apparent that Morey will continue his pet basketball project . . . he will meet next week with Henry McCarthy, Tech Tourney and NE director, for furthering his North Shore court carnival.

As the heated argument concerning Medford's place at the head of the Class A table continues, Coach Bill Joyce of the dissenting Classical organization offers a word . . . "Any team that has been beaten is not rightfully a championship team" . . . and he intends to keep Winthrop (Class B) and Gloucester (Class B) on the Lynn schedule even if it should cost his club a championship (as was the case last fall).

B's Seek 3d Straight Over Rangers Tonight

NEW YORK, Nov. 12—The Bruins, after a week layoff from National Hockey League competition, will seek their third straight win over the New York Rangers tonight on Madison Square Garden Ice, and Coach Dit Clapper has his squad fit for a hard game. In previous games, the Bruins have won by scores of 3-1 in Boston and 3-1 in New York.

The Rangers, with an outstanding goaler in Chuck Rayner and strengthened by the addition of Buddy O'Connor and Frank Eddolls from Les Canadiens, figure to be playoff contenders. Manager Frank Boucher has gone on record to that effect. They have been forced to play six of their first nine games on the road but they will play their next three games on home ice.

The outstanding feature about the Bruins' play to date has been their rugged defense. In seven of the first eight games opposing teams have scored but one goal in five games and two goals in two games, far and away the best defensive showing of any team in the league. Frank Brimsek has been exceptional in the Boston net, and Milt Schmidt has played in the same brilliant manner which won him the all-star center award a year ago.

The Bruins return to Boston from New York and probably will have a short practice session on Friday, before going to Montreal. Then comes a testing schedule which calls for five games in eight days. This coming stretch of play, starting with the Red Wings at the Garden Sunday night, will go far in determining the class of this Boston team

COLEY INJURED

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 12 (AP)—Coley Welch, former New England middleweight boxing champion, and Martin Foley, 23, both of Portland, were slightly injured today when their automobile skidded during a rainstorm, knocked down a parking meter and crashed into a store.

Welch's nose was lacerated, and Foley's right ear and leg were cut.

The window of the J. E. Gould and Company store was shattered. The car was badly damaged.

Yard Back or Not?—Here is the Georgia Tech pass play which beat Navy, 16-14, and which Coach Tom Hamilton declares was illegal. 'No Complaints On Tech Pass,' Says Hamilton

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 12 (AP)—Capt. Tom Hamilton, Navy's football coach, today issued a formal statement saying he wanted in no way to detract from Georgia Tech's victory over the Middies last Saturday in which a touchdown pass has been questioned.

Hamilton said earlier after seeing movies of the play that he believed Tech quarterback Jimmy Southard was ineligible to receive the pass. At Atlanta Coach Bob Dodd said, "We used exactly the same play against Duke the week before and no one mentioned it." Hamilton's statement said:

"I wish to make clear that the discussion concerning the touchdown play in our game with Georgia Tech last Saturday was not initiated by me or any other Navy spokesman.

"The matter was brought up by newspaper reporters."

He said he had given an honest answer and pointed out he had no complaint "and did not want to detract from Georgia Tech's victory in any way."

GRID HOLIDAY

FALL RIVER, Nov. 12 (AP)—Folks in this city take their high school football seriously.

Durfee High scored a 27-to-0 Armistice Day victory, snapping an 18-game win streak of Coyle High, Taunton.

When Durfee students reported at assembly this morning, they were given the day off from studies to celebrate the grid triumph.

Chandler's Office Sees Durocher Return

CINCINNATI, Nov. 12—It was predicted today by Walter Mulbry, baseball commissioner Chandler's secretary-lawyer, that Leo Durocher would be signed as 1948 Brooklyn manager, following his year's suspension for "conduct detrimental to baseball."

Durocher has served his sentence, said Mulbry, and once again has a clean slate with the commissioner's office. He said there was nothing standing in Branch Rickey's path, that the Dodgers president was free to sign Durocher again.

Rock Races Off After 5th $569 Double

The most torrential northeaster of the N. E. season forced cancellation of racing at Lincoln Downs today and halted the rain-soaked program at Rockingham after the fifth race.

At Lincoln, R. I., 30 feet of the aluminum guard rail gave way just as seven hrses went to the post in the first race. Officials managed to hold up the horses at the last minute. The sum of $11,000 had been wagered on the first race. It was returned.

Rockingham started bravely. Some 4000 saw Khayyam's Kid, a 55-1 shot, win the opener and pay $117.60. Chris Rogers rode him. Later he completed his personal double when he scored on the favorite Weatherite. The double paid $569.40, and 33 persons were rewarded for their daring.

But so howling became the northeaster that after the fifth race Lou Smith decided to call it a day. Only once before in Rock history have races been called. That was on Hurricane Day in 1938.
